No-Confidence Motion Withheld by Anscomb

Leader of Opposition Cites Three Reasons

Opposition Leader Herbert Anscomb declared in the provincial House yesterday that he could "quite easily present to this legislature a want-of-confidence motion in the government."

But, he was quick to add, "I'm not going to do so."

Mr. Anscomb leads 11 Conservative members in the opposition group, which also includes eight C.C.F., two Independent and one Labor, a total of 22.

Premier Byron Johnson heads 23 Liberals and three Coalitionists.

Mr. Anscomb said he had three reasons for not introducing the want-of-confidence motion:

"First, we're not here to play politics;

"Second, the government has itself admitted that it has not the confidence of the people . . .;

"Third, in spite of its lack of a mandate there are certain things of a non-controversial nature such as the dominion-provincial agreement and the voting of sufficient supply to carry on the business of the province until a Conservative government assumes office which must be dealt with before the 31st of next month."

"STABILITY ESSENTIAL"

He accused Premier Johnson of using a "feeble excuse" to break Coalition at a time when political stability was essential to the province's economy.

He said the premier had broken the Coalition for his own purposes.

"He had a very extensive row with his own party; he was faced with a convention . . . and he knew if he had any hope at all of remaining supreme at that convention he must break the Coalition because sections of his party were dominant on that point."

"NO LEADER"

He said that after the coming provincial election, "whoever comes back (to the legislature) from the ranks of the Liberal government will not have a king to lead them."

He said he wondered if the reason for the break-up "was not the unpardonable sin of a Conservative being successful where a Liberal had failed."

"History can record the story," Mr. Anscomb said, "and I am perfectly satisfied with my position in it."

Oil Well Richest So Far

Manitoba Find Gets Brief Test

WINNIPEG, Feb. 21 (CP)—Oil at the rate of 250 barrels a day is being produced in a test of an exploratory well in southwestern Manitoba, Mines Minister J. S. McDairmid announced last night.

The well, five miles west of Reston, was drilled for California Standard Oil Company on the farm of George Walker.

Rumors of the find brought oil men from many parts of Canada and the United States to Reston seeking leases. Mineral rights on 70 per cent of the land are owned by farmers and on 30 per cent by the Manitoba government.

E. H. Berry, hardware merchant, was reported to have turned down an offer of $30,000 for oil rights to 640 acres of land. Another man was reported to have sold 6¼ per cent royalty on oil rights to 160 acres for $3,200.

In the Manitoba legislature, Mr. McDiarmid announced he had received a report late today from John Orr, a company geologist, on the result of a five-hour "swab test."

REVISED FIGURE

He said the well produced from 15 to 22 barrels hourly with a high water content which ranged up to 43 per cent. This was the equivalent of at least 100 barrels of oil daily, the minister said.

Later, in an interview, Mr. McDiarmid took into account round-the-clock operation by oil companies, and revised his estimate to 250 barrels. He did not state the gravity of the oil but unofficial reports said it is light crude.

Mr. McDiarmid said that admittedly it was a short test.

"But undoubtedly this is the most promising drilling for oil in Manitoba to date," he said.

The well is 15 miles southwest of the Virden oilfield, whose discovery a year ago touched off a scramble for oil rights in southwestern Manitoba.

Long Separation Ended

A wounded Korean war veteran came home last night to meet a mother he hasn't seen since 1946. Still suffering from five machine gun bullets in the leg, Pte. Harold Holben, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold A. Holben, wanted his "mom" to try on his service beret, but had to settle for his father's R.C.A.M.C. beret as his own was still packed. He arrived yesterday after 18 months' service with the P.P.C.L.I. in Korea. (See story on page 22.)—(Colonist photo by Jim Ryan.)

P.C. Leader Defends Action

Premier Byron Johnson knew six days in advance of press publication the basic terms of a new tax deal agreed upon by Federal Finance Minister Douglas Abbott and Herbert Anscomb, then provincial finance minister.

This was brought out by Mr. Anscomb when he opened the Throne Speech debate in the provincial legislature yesterday.

Premier Johnson fired his finance minister on Jan. 18, because Mr. Anscomb had given a story on the federal provincial tax deal to the press before talking it over with the rest of the cabinet.

Mr. Johnson said at the time that he first heard of the "agreement" from reporters who asked him to comment on Mr. Anscomb's statement.

Mr. Anscomb, returning to Victoria from Ottawa, stopped over in Vancouver on Tuesday, Jan. 15. He phoned a statement to his office in Victoria and it was released to reporters in the legislative buildings.

The tax negotiations were to have been discussed at a cabinet meeting that Tuesday morning.

Resignation Demanded

Friday of that week, after another cabinet meeting, Premier Johnson demanded Mr. Anscomb's resignation for what he termed disregard of constitutional procedure.

Mr. Anscomb, provincial Progressive Conservative leader, quit his cabinet post and took three other Tory cabinet ministers and seven private members into opposition to Premier Johnson's government.

Mr. Anscomb said that while he was in Ottawa early in January he got a wire from Premier Johnson, telling him that the premier had talked to Mr. Abbott by phone and that Mr. Abbott was prepared to discuss some changes in B.C.'s expiring tax agreement.

The principal change in which B.C. would stake its tax-rental revenue on continuing national prosperity meant that the province would get an extra $4,000,000 to $5,000,000 in the next fiscal year.

On Jan. 9, after he had discussed the changes with Mr. Abbott, Mr. Anscomb said he sent this wire to the premier:

"Basic offer as in wire stands. Am dealing with other important matters. Will have written data tomorrow but no press release to be made until Tuesday. Expect to be home Monday."

Before leaving Ottawa, Mr. Anscomb said, he arranged with Mr. Abbott that the federal government, B.C. and seven other provinces would all make press releases on the new tax deal terms at the same time: Tuesday morning, Jan. 15.

"Then I came home," said Mr. Anscomb. "I was delayed en route and could not get home on the morning of Tuesday, Jan. 15. Mr. Abbott's statement was going out in any event, even if I had gone to Mexico or Mars or if I had gone to where a lot of people recently wished I'd gone."

Then Mr. Anscomb read his Jan. 15 press release, which told of the gain to B.C. but did not give details on the changes in the agreement.

Knew Beforehand

"I had wired the premier advising him that the basic offer as in his wire stands. That indicates pretty clearly, doesn't it, that the premier did know before the press release was issued what the situation was, and he certainly could have, and I think he should have, told his cabinet days before of that development."

"The only thing the premier did not know (unless Mr. Abbott had phoned him, which quite likely he had done) was the details of the 'release' clause. Mr. Abbott agreed with me that he had no objection to publicity on this point . . ."

Premier Johnson admitted receiving the wire from Mr. Anscomb.

He said he did not discuss the news with his cabinet, because he was waiting for his finance minister to return to Victoria to discuss the matter in detail, according to an understanding that had been made before Mr. Anscomb left for Ottawa.

Mr. Anscomb said he had set no precedent in giving the news to reporters.

He said that in 1946 former Premier John Hart outlined details on a new agreement to reporters the day before he saw his cabinet.

"On that occasion Mr. Hart also went to Ottawa with a battery of reporters well known to him, and releases were being made all the time.

"That indicates pretty clearly that I had done nothing that had not been done before by my predecessor in office," Mr. Anscomb said.

Municipalities Rap Hospital Proposal

(Special to The Colonist)

VANCOUVER, Feb. 21—The executive of the Union of B.C. Municipalities will protest the proposed boost of B.C.H.I.S. charge to the municipalities from 70 cents per patient per day to $1.

Announcement of the recommendation caused an uproar today at a meeting of the member municipalities assembled in Vancouver to discuss education costs.

The increase was among the proposals submitted to the legislature by a special committee to study hospital insurance costs.

Upon hearing the news from Victoria, the delegates immediately instructed the executive, who will be meeting the cabinet at 11 a.m. today on education costs, to lodge a protest against the increase.

Victoria's costs last year on the 70 cents-a-day basis was about $75,200. The $1 levy would bring it up to about $110,000, or an increase of approximately two-thirds of a mill.

Many municipal representatives feel that the charge has been inequitable in the past and such an increase would only intensify the inequality.

Sharp Quake Breaks Rest In City Area

A sharp earth tremor, the third in two days, shook Victoria and district early this morning.

Many reports of the brief quake were telephoned into The Daily Colonist offices by residents from all parts of Greater Victoria, some of whom were awakened by the shake.

Most reports said that the quake was accompanied by a "deep rumble." Houses were shaken and dishes rattled on the shelves. One woman reported that a picture was shaken from her wall. A man said his house "creaked and moved."

The quake was followed by a shorter quake that lasted about three seconds.

Winch Makes Darts Of Premature Reports

The over-eager afternoon press—along with the government—came in for some more verbal bumps in the provincial legislature yesterday.

When the House sat at 2.30 to begin the Throne Speech debate, C.C.F. leader Harold Winch asked that the report of the inquiry board on the B.C. Hospital Insurance Service be filed immediately.

This was "for the protection of the honorable the members of the press," he said.

He explained that the long report was "already written up" in the afternoon newspapers and would be available to the public "within a few minutes."

PROMPTLY FILED

With leave of the House to interrupt the Throne Speech debate, Health and Welfare Minister Douglas Turnbull filed the report. Mr. Winch seemed satisfied.

Wednesday Mr. Winch displayed in the House a copy of an afternoon paper containing a report of Premier Byron Johnson's policy speech. This was before Mr. Johnson had delivered his address.

Later in yesterday's sitting, Opposition leader Herbert Anscomb turned the policy-speech article against Mr. Johnson.

He reminded the House that he had been fired as finance minister because he had told the press about a new tax deal before he had discussed it with the Cabinet. At the time, Premier Johnson termed this "a flagrant and arrogant disregard of the procedure of constitutional government."

Brandishing a copy of Wednesday's paper, Mr. Anscomb said, "and yet the premier had given out the whole of his policy speech" before it was heard in the House.

He asked sardonically if "the attorney-general has asked for the resignation of the premier . . . for this arrogant and unconstitutional action."

But, he said, "when I use the word arrogant, there's no bite in it."

Five Provinces May Vote

Year to Echo With Campaigning

By The Canadian Press

At least four provinces in addition to British Columbia—Alberta, Saskatchewan, Quebec and New Brunswick—are expected to hold general elections this year.

The British Columbia date likely will be fixed for mid-June. While no announcements have been made, signs point to summer or fall elections in the four other provinces.

Newfoundland, Prince Edward Island and Ontario held general elections last year. The governments of Nova Scotia and Manitoba were elected in 1949 and are not expected to go to the polls for another year.

The federal government may pick June dates to fill five vacancies in the Commons. There now are vacancies in the Quebec constituencies of Outremont and Brome Missisquoi, the Ontario constituencies of Waterloo North and Ontario, and the New Brunswick constituency of Victoria-Carlton.

There are reports that the Social Credit government in Alberta, re-elected Aug. 18, 1948, will call a general election for mid-August. The C.C.F. government of Saskatchewan, re-elected June 24, 1948, is said to be considering dates in late June, early July and late fall.

In Quebec, where the Union Nationale government of Premier Duplessis was re-elected July 28, 1948, another July election is being forecast. Some observers have picked July 23 as a likely date.

The Liberal government of New Brunswick, returned to power June 28, 1948, is expected to pick a mid-summer date for another election. It mainly will be a fight between Liberal and Progressive Conservative candidates.

Civilian Reds Attack U.S. Guards

PUSAN, Korea, Feb. 22 (Friday) (AP).—Communist-led civilian prisoners attacked U.S. troops guarding a Koje Island compound Monday. Seventy persons including one American soldier were killed and 165 injured before the riot was quelled in intense fighting, U.S. authorities said today.

The authorities said about 1,500 civilian inmates of the compound attacked U.S. security troops with steel pickets, wooden clubs, barbed wire flails, black jacks, metal tent pole spokes, iron pipes, rocks and knives.

One American soldier was wounded, 22 suffered minor injuries and 142 inmates were wounded.

No prisoners-of-war were involved in the riot, the officials said.

Koje is a large island about 27 miles southwest of Pusan.

The authorities said order was restored by U.S. troops "only after severe fighting."

Biggest Force To Be R.A.F.

LONDON, Feb. 21 (AP).—For the first time in peace or war, the Royal Air Force will have more manpower than either the army or navy.

Government defense report published tonight estimated that by April, 1953, the regular strength of the three armed services will be Air Force, 213,000; Army, 207,000; Navy, 133,000.

Ottawa Will Request Railway Into Kitimat

OTTAWA, Feb. 21 (CP).—The federal government will ask Parliament this year to finance a railway line into the huge aluminum development at Kitimat, B.C., it was learned today.

The rail line will link Kitimat, where a big hydro project will produce aluminum, with Terrace on the Canadian National Railways line.

Estimates of the cost have not been completed, officials said. However, the railway running through mountainous territory is expected to cost $5,000,000 or more. The federal treasury will finance the project for the C.N.R.

It will be the second big railway development undertaken by the government through the C.N.R. in a year. Last year, Parliament approved the construction of a $14,000,000 line into the Manitoba base-metal mining area of Lynn Lake.

Angry Citizens Shoot Bandit

MIDDLETON, Tenn., Feb. 21 (AP).—A gunman who held up the bank here was critically wounded today in a furious running gunfight with angry citizens.

Police said a customer ran from the Bank of Middleton and spread the alarm 15 minutes before the bandit and two hostages walked out into a hail of lead. "A crowd was waiting, all of them with guns."

In the burst of gunfire, the gunman was hit several times. One of the hostages, T. L. Madden of Memphis, was slightly wounded.

The F.B.I. identified the bandit as Robert H. Bondurant, 36, of Memphis, Tenn. He was charged with bank robbery and bond set at $25,000.

Two M.L.A.'s Hurt in Crash

Two M.L.A.'s and their wives were slightly injured when this car was involved in a collision on the Island Highway near View Royal at about 11 p.m. yesterday. The two members, Sidney J. Smith, Kamloops, and Alexander C. Hope, Delta, are both on the British Columbia Health Insurance Scheme inquiry committee. They were on their way back to the city when the accident occurred. Mrs. Hope is in hospital. Mr. Smith suffered several cracked ribs, he said early today.—(Colonist photo by Jim Ryan.)

Garriott Agrees to Terms

Apparently carefully reading the fine print in contract, Cecil Garriott, former star outfielder of the Los Angeles Angels, is shown above with officials of the Victoria Athletics soon after he flew in from Los Angeles to discuss terms of a managerial contract. Meeting was short and amicable with Garriott agreeing to terms offered to become seventh manager of the Victoria club. Officials, left to right, behind Garriott, are: Business-manager Reg Patterson, director Ray Parfitt, president J. V. Johnson, and director Arthur Cox. See story on page 8.—(Colonist photo by Jim Ryan.)

Conservative Joshes Seat of Government

Opposition Leader Herbert Anscomb yesterday leavened his lengthy address in the provincial legislature with a little fun at the expense of the government.

He referred to "a pearl of wisdom" he had found in a Daily Colonist editorial which termed the seven-man remnant of the provincial executive council a "rump cabinet."

Mr. Anscomb said he wasn't quite sure what that meant. After all, he said, "I've seen some pretty delectable rumps in my day."

Then he quoted a dictionary definition of "Rump: the buttocks, or hinder part; the fag-end or inferior remnant."

That was more like it, he thought.

He suggested that, if the recently shattered Coalition had left its rump in the government benches, the head and the brains were obviously in the Opposition side of the House.

Students to Join Europe Brigade

OTTAWA, Feb. 21 (CP).—The Canadian army will send 74 university undergraduates to Europe next summer to train with the 27th Canadian Infantry Brigade.

The army announced tonight that those selected will be drawn from three-year students about to undergo the third practical phase of the officers' training. Quotas will be allotted to army commands to permit as wide a representation as possible.

Women take better care of cars than men do, a survey reveals.

The quiz on car care, run by a spark plug company, showed that the average woman driver has a motor check every five months. The average male lets six months elapse between checkups.

Women are fussier, said a service station operator. "A lot of them want you to check their oil, tires and water each time they come in for gas, not just once in a while. Hardly any men will do that.'

In view of the fact that most women buy cars because of the color of the upholstery or the shine on the chromium plate, this news comes as a surprise.

* * *

Despite the results of the survey, I still believe that most women are not aware that a car has an engine. A woman sees a car as an intelligent vehicle that carries her to the stores and back. She feels that it should be fed frequent draughts of gas, oil, water and air.

At the back of her mind is the thought that if starved of these things, the car would splutter out an ill-tempered shower of grease and ruin the pretty upholstery.

A woman motorist no more worries about what happens to the gas once it gets in the car than a horsewoman tries to trace a bushel of oats into a nag's stomach.

The feminine attitude toward a machine is summed up by that grand old proverb: "If you want a thing done, get someone else to do it."

That someone else is invariably a man. Chivalry, which outlived the age of the armor-plated man and continued into the age of the armor-plated vehicle, is the chief reason why women are up to date with their oil and water.

When Miss Gloria McSweater drives into a filling station aboard a plush limousine given her by some man, male attendants swarm around like tomcats at fish fry. The following dialogue ensues:—

First attendant: "And what can we do for you this beautiful morning, Miss McSweater? Just name it. Anything, anything at all."

Miss McSweater: "I think I ought to have some of that stuff—what do you call it? You know, the stuff you put in the thingygummy at the back of the car with a hose."

Second attendant: "You mean gas, Miss?"

Miss McSweater: "Yes, that's it, gas. I think I'd better have some of that. I usually do."

Third attendant: "What about some air? Are you fully inflated?"

Miss McSweater: "I BEG your pardon?"

Third attendant: "I'd better check your tires and make sure."

First attendant: "Now, I think I'll put in a little water."

Miss McSweater: "No thanks. I'll have some ginger ale in mine."

Social Credit in Power Need of B.C.--Bennett

A Social Credit government elected in June would lay the groundwork for benefits to the people, W. A. C. Bennett told a Victoria meeting last night.

There would be fair treatment to all, special privileges to none, he said.

Mr. Bennett, Independent member for South Okanagan, addressed Victoria Constituency Association, sponsored by the B.C. Social Credit League. He recently joined the league.

There are many thousands of Social Crediters in the province and if the membership keeps increasing, the movement soon will have more paid up members than all other political parties combined, he stated.

He chose the Alberta form of government over all other provinces, knowing that he had to have something more than criticism to offer after crossing the floor of the Legislature, Mr. Bennett said.

"But I have great faith that B.C.'s great resources, if properly handled, will produce much value," he added.

EQUAL B.C. DEBT

The new Social Credit supporter compared the $168,000,000 debt of Alberta with an equal B.C. debt in 1935. At June 30, 1951, the Alberta debt was $97,000,000, while last year the B.C. debt was $228,000,000. Alberta had an investment account of $70,000,000, while B.C. had a $18,000,000 sinking fund.

"The government is Saturday night rich. It is time to call a halt. Only a Social Credit government would dare face the problem," the speaker said.

He pointed out that Alberta's oil revenue in the last four years has been no greater than this province's sales tax collections. But in this province no road building is done out of current revenue such as there, he said.

[illegible] would attempt to follow the basic principles established in Alberta. "Fair treatment to all, special privileges to none," he said.

BALLOT PRAISED

The preferential ballot was praised by Mr. Bennett as "very democratic because it makes sure a person who is wanted is elected."

Referring to the Coalition government, he said it should have broken immediately after Esquimalt by-election when it was "repudiated." The break over a statement was "ridiculous," he noted.

Premier Byron Johnson and Herbert Anscomb were described as "two little boys" for their reports of the last two days.

Every speech of the new session has been political, he claimed.

Mr. Bennett warned that Social Credit "must not rush" but that there is no time to lose. "After June election there will never be a Liberal or Conservative government again for many years.

"The election is now on . . . the campaign is on."

Credit Given to Labor Party For U.K. Peace Contribution

Britain's great contribution to world peace since 1945 is largely due to the fine work of the Labor government, Dr. William J. Rose told members of the United Nations' Association last night.

"I am not a Labor man, nor a Socialist," he said. "I was nurtured on the Liberalism of the 19th century, but the Labor government of Britain must receive the credit it is due."

Dr. Rose, at present at the University of British Columbia, has been back in Canada a little over a year from England, where he was on the faculty of the University of London for many years.

"I was glad when the Labor party was elected in 1945. Churchill was not the man to rehabilitate Britain," he said.

Churchill was greatly honored by the people of the country after the war, he said, but he was not the Churchill they had known during the war years.

"In some of his campaign speeches, he gave the voters the impression that they would be letting England down if they voted for anyone but him," he said.

The people of Great Britain felt they needed a change, and despite their great admiration for their war-time leader, they did not vote for him, he said.

"What was acceptable to them in time of war was not acceptable in peace," he said.

He showed that the people were determined the returning soldiers of the past war were not going to be treated as were the veterans of the First World War.

"I was astounded at the way people of all parties pitched in together to help rehabilitate the returning veterans," he added.

Dr. Rose said he did not believe in the old maxim of "peace at any price," but like millions of others, "I want to be able to go about my work and play in peace, and will, by hook or by crook," he said.

"The hard lesson England learned in the dark '30s taught them the folly of appeasement, and although they now take in good part the price they had to pay for their mistake, all they are asking of the rest of the free world is to put forward an effort to keep the peace," he said.

U.B.C.M. Endorses New System For Sales Tax, Education Costs

VANCOUVER, Feb. 21—Municipalities of B.C. will petition the provincial government to set up an entirely new system of sales tax distribution and education costs.

The decision was reached unanimously by more than 100 delegates of the Union of B.C. Municipalities who met here yesterday to discuss education costs.

The new plan as outlined by Winnipeg taxation expert W. E. Hobbs was unanimously received and adopted by the delegates.

It provides that the provincial government bear 80 per cent of education costs leaving 20 per cent to be carried by municipal governments.

In turn, the government would keep 80 per cent of the S.S. & M.A. tax which now goes to the municipalities and 20 per cent 20 per cent would be turned over to the local governments for general purposes.

At present, a percentage of the entire amount, based on population, is turned over to each municipality for use in school costs.

MEETING SET

President of the U.B.C.M. Mayor Frank Goldsworthy of North Vancouver, will head a six-man delegation which will meet the provincial cabinet at 11 a.m. today.

Under the new system, as Mr. Hobbs suggested in his lengthy report, education financing would be put on the same basis as social assistance towards which the province pays 80 per cent.

In his report, Mr. Hobbs felt that education was of a more national character like social assistance, and should not be financed largely from property taxation as it is at present.

Greater Victoria, for example, must pay this year $2,086,336 towards the cost of education out of a total budget of $2,936,500. The provincial government bears only $850,163 of this by grants to the municipalities.

Victoria's own share of the money to be raised by local taxation is $1,252,010, which is equivalent to about 24 mills.

Representing Victoria at yesterday's one-day convention were Ald. Waldo Skillings, Ald. William Pinfold and City Manager Cecil Wyatt.

City Urged To Fight Fare Boost

The mayor and council, who have verbally expressed opposition to the proposed increase in transit fare rates, have received several letters from local organizations urging a strong stand against the increase.

Among these are one from the Labor Progressive Party and another from the Cost of Living Committee.

The first asserts that an increase "would be a severe blow to the people of Victoria, cutting further into the standard of living."

"It is the opinion of the membership . . . that the city council which is entrusted with defending the welfare of the citizens . . . must take a strong stand against any fare increase," the letter states.

ONE MORE BLOW

The Cost of Living Committee declared that the straight 10-cent fare "would be one more blow at the standard of living" and would hit hard at persons on fixed incomes.

Officials of the body feel the company "must produce facts and figures to warrant its demand."

The city, meanwhile, has received official notification of the hearing, scheduled for March 10, before the Public Utilities Commission, from chairman Percy E. George.

The four Greater Victoria municipalities may make representation through the Greater Victoria transportation committee.

YOU HAVE PLANS that are important, too. The things you want most, the worthwhile things, have to be planned for, saved for.

That's not easy, these days. But here are two suggestions that may help you to realize your own particular dream:

FIRST, decide what you want most, how much it will cost, and open a special savings account at The Royal Bank of Canada for that one particular purpose . . . then save for it.

SECOND, use the Royal Bank Budget Book to keep yourself on your course, and to avoid careless spending. The budget book does not suggest how you should spend your money. It does provide you with a simple pattern to help you PLAN YOUR BUDGET TO SUIT YOURSELF. You can get a copy at any branch. Ask for one.

Liberal Charges Resources Fraud

REGINA, Feb. 21 (CP).—A. C. Cameron, Liberal member for the Maple Creek riding, charged in the Saskatchewan legislature today that the government has failed to guard against "fraudulent racketeers" getting hold of provincial uranium resources.

He also said the government had allowed extensive oil leases to be given to Fred Rubbra in 1949. "These have made Mr. [illegible] gas and oil reserves," Mr. Cameron said.

Repeating charges made in the legislature in 1951, Mr. Cameron said friends of the government had obtained valuable oil and uranium.

Resources Minister J. H. Brockelbank is expected to answer Mr. Cameron during tomorrow's session.

Mr. Cameron moved an amendment to the address in reply to the Speech from the Throne regretting the manner in which the [illegible] and oil resources. Speaker Tom Johnston reserved his decision as to the properness of the motion.

Mr. Cameron said the government, according to its principles, had tried to get uranium development. "It found Mr. Young, Mr. Herschorn and Mr. Richardson—they grabbed 143 square miles."

These men had obtained 83 per cent of the shares of American-Canadian Uranium Company, which had the Saskatchewan holdings, at a cost of $90,000, and tried to sell the remaining 17 per cent for $1,750,000.

The result was that the New York State attorney-general announced he would investigate the firm, which had entered that state, he said.

"They get these rights with but one purpose in mind—to perpetrate their fraud on innocent people."

Railways Plan To Increase Coast Rates

OTTAWA, Feb. 21 (CP).—The railways are planning to increase their low "transcontinental" rates between eastern Canada and the west coast, it was learned today.

The inceraes of 4½ per cent is to go into effect March 1.

The size of the hoist is the same as that authorized for other rates by the Board of Transport Commissioners late in January. Those increases went into effect Feb. 11.

The transcontinental rates, which are at a low level to meet competition, do not need a prior authorization from the board for increases within their ceilings. The railways have filed the higher rates to take effect March 1 automatically.

The increases will have an automatic effect, too, on some rates between Alberta and the east, which are tied to the transcontinental rates.

By legislation at the last session of parliament, the Alberta-eastern Canada charges were limited to a maximum of 1 1-3 times the amount of the British Columbia-eastern Canada tolls.

Wed Warden's Helper, Convict Back in Prison

PORTLAND, Ore., Feb. 21 (AP).—A convict who wooed and won the warden's secretary got sent back to the Oregon prison today as a result.

The State Parole Board explained at once that it wasn't against romance. It was just that prisoner Jewell Chester Close, 39, was setting a bad example, and listed what happened since Close was parolled last month:

He was told not to drive a car. He did anyway. He was told not to drink. He did that, too. He was told not to marry. Within 24 hours he married the warden's secretary, Anne M. Carty, 38.

"That did it, the Parole Board said in effect. For these "continued violations of various parole rules," he was being sent back behind bars, the board announced.

MET AS TRUSTY

Close, who met Miss Carty while he was a trusty in the prison at Salem, has two years remaining of a three-year term for passing bad cheques.

His new wife appeared with him before the board Thursday. She has given notice she will quit as the warden's secretary March 1. She said she did not know what she would do while Close is back in prison.

While on parole, Close worked as a service station attendant here. He is eligible for parole whenever the board wants to take up his case again.

Oddities

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21 (AP).—This city tomorrow will remember the man who gave it its name by going on a terrific buying binge.

Today's Evening Star had 144 pages—one of the largest newspapers ever published here—to list the George Washington birthday bargains.

The ads shrieked of women's coats for $1; electric trains for 98 cents; fur coats, $1.99; "genuine ladies' diamond rings," $1.99; television sets, 99 cents; automobile radios, 69 cents; wool rugs, $1; women's shoes for a nickel (if milady buys the first pair at full price).

The quantity of many items is limited. Only two rugs, for example, are on sale for $1.

That's why, if history repeats, lines will start forming in front of the stores during the night.

Nobody is quite sure how this custom began. But why it started is obvious. Most government workers have a holiday on Washington's birthday, so it's a good time to get them into the stores.

ELYRIA, O., Feb. 21 (AP).—Susan Bach, today told police she stabbed her boy friend because he alienated the affections of her monkey.

Miss Bach, 22, said Zeke, the monkey, had been given to her three weeks ago by another friend. Since then, she continued, Sherman Bigley, 30, has been getting most of Zeke's attention.

It all came to a head Wednesday night when they argued in a cafe near her home in Lorain. Later she stabbed Bigley in the hip with a pocket knife.

Bigley was treated at a hospital. No charges have been filed.

"Grass Beyond the Mountains"

Only 17 years ago, two Wyoming cowboys rode north into British Columbia and staked claim to a vast cattle range never before seen by white men.

In March Reader's Digest is Richmond Hobson's dramatic first-hand account of their struggle against the wilderness; of pioneer dangers lit by the neighborliness and humor of frontier life.

Says the Christian Science Monitor of this book: "Grass Beyond the Mountains is a true story of all-conquering imagination, daring and work."

Lewis Demands Mine Safety Law

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21 (INS).—John L. Lewis today called the coal industry a "mortician's paradise" and said the United Mine Workers will do "something" if Congress fails to pass a safety law.

The U.M.W. president declared the 119 men killed at West Frankfort, Ill., last December died in an "inferno" that could have been prevented. He asserted the U.S. "butchers more men" in mines than any other country does.

Lewis added: "I don't know what the U.M.W. will do if Congress does not pass a federal safety law, but I'll wager you I'll think of something."

Train Freed, Has to Back For 15 Miles

STE. THERESE, Que., Feb. 21 (CP).—A Canadian National Railways train, snowbound since Monday night, moved off tonight, leaving its 38 passengers to wait for its "successor."

The Diesel-powered train was finally cleared out of the snow at 8 p.m. by 50 men and two rotary plows working around the clock.

It started backing to Chandler, Que., 15 miles west of here, where it will stay overnight. Friday, it will head back to Campbellton, nearly 150 miles away.

The train was on its way from Campbellton to Gaspe only 45 miles from here when it bogged down in huge snowdrifts.

The 38 passengers, including four women and two children, stayed overnight at hotels and farmhouses. Nine men who had remained in the baggage and express cars with the six crew members joined the other stranded passengers at the temporary lodgings.

The storm, which reached blizzard proportions Monday night and Tuesday, was described as the "worst that ever swept Gaspe Peninsula" by passenger J. R. Cormier of Newport Island, Que.

All roads were blocked and schools have been closed since Tuesday.

Jury Acquits Young Wife

CALGARY, Feb. 21 (CP).—A crowded courtroom sat in silence today when a six-man jury in criminal assizes here acquitted Mrs. Gwendolyn Dreher, 26, on a charge of murdering her former fiance, Clarence M. Franklin.

The jury deliberated for three hours.

Mrs. Dreher, blonde wife of a Calgary police constable, had been on trial since Feb. 11, charged with the fatal shooting of 28-year-old Franklin in the Dreher's suite last Nov. 30.

Population Of Ridings Reported

OTTAWA, Feb. 21 (CP).—The Ontario constituencies of York East and York West are the most densely populated of Canada's single-member federal electoral districts.

The Bureau of Statistics, in a report today on the population of federal electoral districts, said that York East, with 159,652 people, has the largest population among one-member ridings. York West is next with 126,420 and Welland third with 123,233 persons.

Halifax constituency, which returns two members of the Commons, has a population of 162,217. The Quebec constituency of Iles-de-la-Madeleine has the smallest population, 9,999.

The report, based on the 1951 census, contained no comparative figures. It said comparisons were not possible because the boundaries of electoral districts have been changed since the previous census was taken in 1941.

Unless the basis for allocating seats is changed, this is how the 262 seats in the Commons will be divided in the next parliament, with existing representation in brackets:

Newfoundland seven (seven); Prince Edward Island four (four); Nova Scotia 12 (13); New Brunswick 10 (10); Quebec 75 (73); Ontario 85 (83); Manitoba 14 (16); Saskatchewan 15 (20); Alberta 17 (17); British Columbia 22 (18); Yukon and Northwest Territories one (one).

Ottawa, on the basis of population, would be entitled to four instead of three seats. This might be done by amalgamating the nearby rural ridings of Glengarry and Prescott.

One Death In Korea On New List

OTTAWA, Feb. 21 (CP).—The army today issued its 95th casualty list of the Korean War, reporting one man killed in action and two wounded.

This brought to 702 the number of casualties so far suffered by the Canadian troops [illegible] dead, 507 wounded, 60 injured, four missing and one captured.

Killed in action was Pte. Robert Arthur Ryan, 2nd Battalion, R.C.R., Halifax, N.S. Wounded were Pte. Victor Sheldon Deets, 1st Battalion, P.P. C.L.I., Prince Albert, Sask.; and Gnr. John David Simpson, 2nd Field Regiment, R.C.H.A., of Amherst Point, N.S.

Simple, Cheap Compound

TB Drug Dramatic Success

NEW YORK, Feb. 21 (INS).—A new and inexpensive synthetic drug for the treatment of tuberculosis, which has had "dramatic" results, was announced today by medical authorities in New York.

The drug is a simple compound, derived principally from coal tar, and can be produced within the range of every pocketbook.

On the basis of experiments so far, the new drug was described [illegible] "dramatic promise" and as "more effective than any other substance known at present" in the treatment of tuberculosis, the disease which kills more people in the United States than all other infectious diseases combined.

By a coincidence, the new compound was developed simultaneously by two scientific groups, each working independently and without the knowledge of the other.

The separate groups are represented by the commercial drug manufacturers of E. R. Squibb & Sons of New York, and Hoffman-La Roche, Inc., of Nutley, N.J.

Squibb calls its drug nydrazid, and Hoffmann-La Roche has named its tablet Rimifon Roche, known as isonicotinic acid, and [illegible]

Results of experiments on human patients were described in detail today by representatives of the two firms and by other medical investigators.

It is too early to say that the new drug offers a positive cure for tuberculosis, they emphasized, but they were frankly elated over the promise it holds.

After first experimenting with animals, clinical studies on human patients were made at Seaview Hospital on Staten Island and at the New York hospital-Cornell Medical Centre in New York.

The experiments at Seaview were begun in June 1951. Between 150 and 200 patients, ranging from 15 to 75 years in age and in advanced stages of tuberculosis, were healed with "amazing results," it was announced.

Para-Rescue Team Acts

Doctor Dropped to Girl

HALIFAX, Feb. 21 (CP)—An army doctor and two R.C.A.F. helpers tonight were dropped by parachute to an isolated New Brunswick village where the eight-year-old daughter of a fishermen is fighting for her life.

Marie Mazerolle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Prudent Mazerolle, was in serious danger of death, suffering from a ruptured appendix at her humble home at Point Sapin, coastal village about 30 miles from Chatham.

Capt. James Gilbert of the Army Medical Corps and two R.C.A.F. non-commissioned officers, trained para-rescue men, were dropped to the girl's home.

Dr. Leon Richard at Richibucto who had been treating the girl by telephone, reported in a telephone conversation to Moncton, N.B., that the appendix had ruptured.

Port Sapin is isolated by a howling winter storm that blocked highways.

After receiving Dr. Richard's call for help, the air force search and rescue unit found it had no aircraft that could land at Point Sapin. Helicopters that were available lacked sufficient range.

Through the army, they learned that Capt. Gilbert, trained in parachute jumping, had left Halifax early today on his way to Camp Borden, Ont.

The captain was told of the girl's plight when his train stopped at Newcastle, near Chatham. He offered his services and was taken to Chatham air force base, where he was picked up by an ambulance plane from Greenwood, N.S., and flown to Sapin.

Facing a Condition

WHEN Vancouver and Victoria organizations present their protests against the application of the transit operators for a bus fare increase in the two chief coast cities they may hear some hard and unpalatable facts which have become part of the written record. Not labor, not management, not the cost of materials or any one of them alone have forced up the cost of doing business. That condition, common to all businesses, is embodied in the times we live in and is more correctly attributable to the falling value of money, and the complex results of inflation on a world-wide plane.

In so far as the rate applications themselves are concerned, the transit utility may well be able to prove that the present fare structure is not liquidating the cost of the bus services given let alone returning the theoretical profit permitted under provincial law. Indeed, the claim is advanced that bus fares would have to be 13 cents in Victoria and 16 cents in Vancouver, before the system would "break even" on transit operations considered by themselves. Obviously no such charge could be collected from a public objecting to the existing fare structure, without the progressive collapse of the transit system.

We have said, and firmly believe, that the 10-cent straight cash fare being sought in the present application here will not close the gap, but rather will widen it through the law of diminishing returns. That is contested by the operating company, but is not capable of either proof or disproof short of actual trial. Such a test, however, would be in the nature of a very desperate remedy. If it failed the consequences would be onerous on all concerned.

In our view some of the fault lies in the implicit insistence by the province that the franchise holders conduct their several operations on a separate basis, making each of them pay. The province took that stand when it was trying to coax the municipalities to take over the old street car systems, with a view to buying out the power generation and distribution systems itself. That dream collapsed when the municipalities would have none of it. Ever since, however, provincial utility control formulas have revolved around much the same pattern; which is in itself a denial of the situation facing transit operators and users alike today. Meanwhile if coast transit operations have reached costs that cannot be lowered and cannot be adequately subsidized there is something wrong with the basic formula. The perpetual increase of fare tariffs can only widen that gap.

Color-Blind Drivers

AN OUT-OF-TOWN motorist answering to a charge of careless driving produced a novel excuse in the city police court this week. He said he had mistaken an overhead street light for a green traffic light and had crossed the intersection in the belief that he had right of way. To most people that excuse might sound ridiculous, but it is not necessarily so. The driver may have been slightly color-blind.

Color-blindness, which can occur in men whose vision is perfect otherwise, is a peculiar affliction and a much commoner one than is generally realized. Because it dates always from birth, defective color perception often goes unsuspected by those who have it. Scientific tests introduced during the last war disclosed that a surprisingly large proportion of males (color-blindness is unknown in women, though it is handed down only by the female side) had color defects in varying degree, ranging from total color-blindness in rare cases to slight deficiency at one end of the spectrum. For all its other achievements, science has failed so far to discover any means of compensating for this deficiency. Glasses are of no use whatever.

Some men who can distinguish red or amber from the more vivid shades of green cannot detect any color at all in the "go" light of traffic signals. Yet the signal is still an effective guide because men who are aware of defects in color vision learn to tell one light from another by its position in the frame and by its relative brilliance. If it's the brightest of the three, it's green. This system usually works very well for those familiar with the signals in their own towns, but is apt to break down in strange surroundings.

There is, too, another group of slightly color-blind men whose color perception, while adequate at close range, deteriorates as the distance from the colored object increases. To them as to all color-blind persons the multiplicity of lights on city streets can be most confusing, just as it can be sometimes to persons whose perception is 100 per cent.

Until something better can be devised, the use of colored lights to control traffic seems to be the most effective system, but of late authorities in the United States have conceded that it is not perfect. Considerable research is now going on in the hope of overcoming the handicap of color-blindness.

The Great Unknown

THERE are several intriguing aspects attached to the forthcoming election but none more unpredictable in its effect than the introduction of the single transferable vote. In theory this is supposed to produce a more representative legislature, better in keeping with the popular vote. Whether it does or not remains to be seen.

The C.C.F. believes this change is designed to harm it, although its own present representation might well induce a desire for a change. The C.C.F. polled about a third of the popular vote at the last election yet won only one-sixth of the seats. It is probably true, however, that the erstwhile Coalition amendments to the Election Act, expected to be proclaimed in time for this summer's voting, were brought about in the hope the older parties would benefit.

This could easily prove to be mere wishful thinking. For one thing, party followers of the C.C.F. are so singleminded most of them might decide to plump their votes, as is permissible, and mark no alternative choices at all. The Liberal or Conservative voter is not so apt to do this, but is more likely to exercise his franchise in full. So many diehards exist in both these parties, however, that with traditional asperities sharpened by the abrupt end to Coalition the alternative votes cast by them might not turn out as contemplated.

In a greater degree than ever before, therefore, the public has the fortunes of each party in the hollows of its hands. There is a wider choice to play with in disposing of first, second, third or fourth favors, and the electorate might enjoy the juggling and come up with some surprising results. In the abstract at least the transferable vote is fair enough to all parties, with the dominant factor labeled with more certainty than ever—the great unknown.

A DISCLAIMER

Sir,—With regard to the publicity recently given by your paper to a partial poll of Victoria College students, and in particular to the response of those students to a question regarding drinking of alcoholic beverages; the constitution of the Alma Mater Society rules that "bringing and/or consuming liquor within the precincts of the college, or at any function held under the name of the college, renders any student liable to immediate expulsion."

Neither the faculty nor the students' council condone evasion of that rule.

The poll indicates quite clearly that a minority of students exercise their personal prerogative to partake of such beverages. But you failed to measure accurately the result of the poll, giving the public the false impression that a large majority of the student body is addicted to drinking, whereas the poll indicated that only 30 per cent of the total enrollment professed to drink.

It is surprising, indeed, that the integrity of the press allows the printing of inaccurate reports, as in this case, which reflects not only on the moral character and behaviour of the majority of a fine student group, but inferentially on an unexcelled faculty.

The students' council requested that this letter be written in order to dispel the misunderstanding which your copy has engendered.

MARION E. GIBBS, President,
Alma Mater Society, Victoria College.
Victoria, B.C.

Editor's Note: The student magazine, The Martlet, stated that a sample poll was taken of 51 per cent of the total enrollment; that 59 per cent of those questioned said they "drank;" and that 62 per cent approved drinking at college functions.

WAR VETERANS' CHEQUES

Sir,—I notice that Vancouver Island and Mainland recipients of war veterans' allowances are up in arms at deductions made from their January cheques, this in view of increases granted in disability pensions as from Jan. 1, 1952.

As a member of the Legion's national committee of four who are engaged in preparing a brief to be presented to a parliamentary committee in March, I am in complete agreement with the complaining veterans.

They got an increase in pension and a reduction in war veterans' allowance because the government failed to increase the amount of income permissible to recipients of war veterans' allowance, so those veterans who were in receipt of the maximum of $1,100 yearly suffered accordingly.

The Canadian Legion did everything possible to have this matter dealt with at last session of the House of Commons, and had the complete support of other veteran bodies in this connection, but the government was adamant in the matter of leaving consideration of an increase in war veterans' allowances, both in basic rate and in maximum income permitted, to a parliamentary committee to be appointed in March.

We thank the members of parliament who brought about the favorable decision on disability pensions, but it is to be regretted that sound and reasonable advice tendered by those who know something about the affairs of veterans was not accepted by Ottawa early last year. Much trouble and embarrassment to the government and to veterans would have been avoided had proper consideration been given to our requests presented to the parliamentary committee at that time.

Thinking Aloud

"... of shoes—and ships—and sealing wax—of cabbages and kings."

By TOM TAYLOR

YOU would maybe read, alas, that canard in the Vancouver Sun (may the sun set on it soon), about the German immigrant whose boss, a Kingsway merchant, was indulging in toasts appropriate to January 25.

Whereupon the German, puzzled that his Scots employer should belong to the Jewish church, said: "Tell me, who is this 'Rabbi' Burns?".

After which there's nothing left for me to do but repeat the tale told me by Major Dewar, as braw a Hielan' man as ever swung his kilt in Macdonald Park for the annual Games. It tells of the Aberdonian who was walking down Piccadilly when he spied a threepenny bit on the ground. He bent down, of course, and was picking it up when along comes a bus and runs over him.

And what do you think was the verdict of the coroner's jury?—Death from natural causes!

That story came from Aberdeen itself, I'm sure. There's a factory there that rivals the jute industry as a dollar earner, sending out jokes all over the world. This one, for instance:

An Englishman, an Irishman and an Aberdonian were having a drink of whisky when three flies fell, one into each glass. The Englishman took a spoon and lifted his fly out, the Irishman dipped his finger in the whisky and took his fly out, and the Aberdonian . . .

He wrung his fly out!

* * *

Incidentally before this space gives out I'll speak further about whisky, the kind favored by the Canadian Scottish on New Year's Day.

Also incidentally, did you know that long ago a penny was a division of land able to maintain 8 milch cows, so the Piccadilly Aberdonian was really trying to pick up 24 cows' worth and he's not to be laughed at.

One of our chaps here, big enough to be a caber tosser, was laughing heartily when he looked at me yesterday. And no wonder. I was staring at his Colquhoun tie. He's from Toronto, which he can't help, but his ancestors came from Dorset or Delaware or some other strange place, yet this past year he's broken out in a rash of tartan. One day his neck is MacGregor, another day it's Grant, or maybe Lindsay or Fraser or Mackenzie.

So, as puzzled as the German about "Rabbi" Burns, I said: "How come?"

And this is how. It seems that another of our couth lads was in Edinburgh when he was overseas with the R.C.A.F. and he fell in love with a shop window in Princes Street. In the usual daze that love brings in its wake he bought himself a dozen tartan ties. I gather that when he got back to Canada, queer soul, he didn't like his Highland neckline and gave them all to our caber tosser.

* * *

You know, at the arena the other night I counted no fewer than 14 tartan ties (well, maybe not quite 14), and nary an accent among them. Another fresh faced youth in our office hasn't the accent either but he's sporting the Dress Stewart these days and dressy it looks on him too. He's as close to being a Scot as I am to being blood brother to a Borneo chief, but then—if you haven't a clan tartan you can wear the Stewart, or so they tell me.

Talking about Stewart brings me to the Canadian Scottish and whisky, and just in time. These fine fellows wear the Stewart, hunting variety, and have a yen for whisky, Atholl Brose variety.

'Tis ambrosia, and here's how you make it:

Put a pound of liquid honey in a basin, add half a pint of water and stir. You must use a silver spoon. Add, very slowly, a pint and a half of whisky. Stir until a froth arises. Bottle the mixture and let it keep a while.

If you like you can steep the whisky in oatmeal first, and beat up the yolk of an egg with the brose.

This potion is calculated to awaken the dead or, more likely, to put you to sleep. At least it put to sleep the wild man in Atholl who had a hand in its origin. But that's another tale.

The Problem of German Rearmament

By W. N. EWER, From London

THE realization that the Lisbon meeting of the council of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization will not be able to take final decisions about West German participation in the defense system of Western Europe has aroused in many quarters feelings of irritation and impatience. That is understandable enough. For the urgency of the need for completing the structure is very apparent; and it cannot be completed until questions of the manner of German participation have been decided.

Yet, there are occasions on which undue impatience can be as dangerous as complacency. Facts are stubborn things and cannot be ignored with impunity. And psychological facts are, in human relations, as important as material facts.

The impatience of these days is very largely the consequence of past failure to assess and accept the human (or, if you will, the political) difficulties of this problem of associating the federal political organization of the Western German republic with the military and political organization of Western Europe and the Atlantic community.

* * *

It is not, or has long ceased to be, merely a question of how to allow a necessary measure of German rearmament without running the risks of a revival of German militarism, which her Western neighbors, after the experience of two wars, could hardly be expected to accept.

The concept of a European army and a European defense community in which new German armed forces would be wholly merged was intended both to solve the problem and, like the Schumann Plan for the pooling of the coal and steel industries, to be also a step towards the political federation of the European democracies.

But, when it was enthusiastically welcomed as a solution of the problem of German rearmament, there was a tendency to overlook the complications which had inevitably been introduced by the injection of the factor of political association.

Here was the plan—the so-called Pleven Plan. The essential and urgent thing seemed to be to get the details worked out and the system into being with the minimum of delay. That eager desire led to an underestimation of the political difficulties. It was one thing to plan on paper, another to get the plans accepted and agreed to by the parliaments and peoples of the democratic countries. Catherine the Great of Russia once said to the French philosopher Diderot: "Monsieur Diderot, your work is easier than mine. You only have to write on paper. I have to write on human skins; and they are a sensitive material". The problem now is to transfer the paper plans to the sensitive human skins of a number of democracies. And it was a little unimaginative to expect that such a process could be either easy or rapid.

* * *

The fact is that this task of creating a European defense community, including Western Germany, has now passed from the phase of paper planning to the phase of securing human acceptance. And wider issues are at once involved.

There is, more especially in the Benelux countries, a certain reluctance to accept, on grounds of immediate military necessity, political and constitutional changes of which consequences may be as far-reaching as they are uncertain and unconsidered. Nor can such reluctance be simply shouted down and denounced as reactionary and obstructive.

Even more important at the moment is the evident and growing feeling in Germany that if the federal republic is not merely to play a part in defending the security of Western Europe but to enter into close political and military association with other European States, in some measure to merge a part of its sovereignty with theirs, it can only do so on a footing of complete equality. That German insistence may be unwelcome. It should hardly have been unexpected. And it is a factor which cannot simply be ignored or made the occasion for indignation.

The task, as The Times put it a few days ago, "is nothing less than the changing of the status of Germany from that of a defeated enemy under military occupation to that of a free and trustworthy ally in the new Atlantic system of defense".

That cannot in the nature of things be easy. The difficulties are not all on one side. They are largely intangible; but they are not the less real because of that. Nor can they be suddenly removed by a formula or by a communique. It has been said a hundred times that the question is one of confidence. And, as Lord Chatham said, "confidence is a plant of slow growth."

What we are seeking is the best solution to this problem. The need for the structure we are trying to build is an urgent one. Yet, at the same time, a hasty prefabricated building, lacking strength and stability, can hardly fulfil its purpose. There must be solid foundations. To adapt Catherine's metaphor, we have to build on a foundation of human minds and wills; and they are apt to be a difficult material.

The Lisbon conference cannot achieve miracles. It will not, one judges now, achieve as much as was, a little rashly, expected by many when it was first arranged. But it will not be useless. It will be another step in an advance which is none the less an advance because it has been slower than the too hopeful expectations. And this is certainly no moment for losing patience or letting judgment be warped by irritation.

Human Nature vs. Planners

(From The Montreal Gazette)

IT might be a good thing if economic planners were to leave their draughting boards once in a while to rub shoulders in the market place. They would learn about human nature. Nor would this learning be irrelevant when they went back to their work.

Whether fortunately or unfortunately, human nature can't be planned out of existence. And it is generally human nature, and not the planner, which has the decisive last word.

In Canada, for instance, the attempt is being made to prevent people from spending money by putting many things out of their reach. They are being put out of reach by making them more expensive to buy, and by leaving people with less money to buy them. The first is being attempted by putting special indirect taxes on many things, to raise their price tags. The second is being attempted by higher income taxes, which will give people less money to take home, or to keep at home.

But human nature, while it may practice self-denial upon certain great occasions, will not accept self-denial easily as a way of daily life. In Canada human nature has been feeling for an answer. Part of the answer is being found in using savings to maintain purchasing power. But this is just the reverse of what a planner would desire. Saving needs to be encouraged and enlarged at this time. But by putting up the price of goods by indirect taxes, the planners have been driving savings into the buying stream.

Something similar is taking place with regard to higher taxes. Those who have found their incomes cut down are trying to restore them by demands for higher salaries or wages. So it is that the plan to cut down spending may tend to be offset by people saving less money and demanding more.

There are no easy answers to the riddles of living. But this much seems quite certain: governments, like everyone else, must learn to work with human nature and not against it.

The Packsack

OF GREGORY CLARK

FEW people are completely ambidextrous. One of my friends belongs to this rare and gifted few. And for a hobby, what do you suppose he took up? Piano playing? No. Signing dollar bills for the government? No. He took up amateur carpentry, and has one of those wonderful cellars filled with work benches, lathes and small machine tools. To watch him at work gives you the sort of vertigo you get looking over the parapet at Niagara Falls.

He picks up a hammer with either hand, or a saw or a fine chisel, and uses it with equal ease and dexterity. Around a spinning saw blade or a humming drill, either hand moves with precision and assurance to grip the material or to adjust the machine. It gives you the willies, in a weird and indescribable fashion. Most of us being right-handed invariably experience a slight jolt upon seeing a left-handed person pick up a pen and casually dash off a notation with it. The shock of seeing a person using both hands with complete facility strikes deep into our sensibilities. We are a one-handed creature, and some basic sort of fellowship and understanding of one another lies in that fact.

It may be in our limitations and shortcomings that human beings are most likely to be rallied together. The power of religion over mankind, since the dawn of time, has been due to the thorough sense of unworthiness common to us all.

Recent writings on communism bring out the fact that the fundamental evil of communism is its vain glorious project to substitute the intelligence of man for God. Our shortcomings and limitations are to be overcome and all sense of unworthiness eliminated. But the chances are we will still remain a one-handed creature that shivers at the sight of ambidextrous perfection.

Looking Back

Through Colonist Files

25 YEARS AGO—Victoria school board estimates tabled by the city council last night show expenditures totaling $520,394 and receipts at $141,875. Net expenditures, $467,339, are $20,000 more than last year.

50 YEARS AGO—Sir Henri Joly, lieutenant-governor of the province, yesterday formally opened the third session of the ninth parliament of British Columbia.

85 YEARS AGO—The greatest grievance under which our colonists labor is the want of a constitution that secures them proper representation in the Legislative Council.

Cheque Case Goes To Higher Court

Formal committal of Frank Guiney, 1003 Carberry Gardens, to trial by higher court on a forgery charge will be made in police court today.

Magistrate H. C. Hall handed down the ruling following a preliminary hearing yesterday in which Staff-Sgt. H. H. Radcliffe, chief of the documentary examination staff of the R.C.M.P. at Regina ...

He said that handwriting on a cheque allegedly passed by accused last September at Langford, was similar to his known handwriting.

He added that he had compared the writing and as a result "I am of the opinion that the person who wrote the specimen handwriting on the cheque are one and the same person."

Accused was charged with uttering a forged cheque for $35 at the shop of Alexander Shafoval, Langford.

It was endorsed and passed by Fred T. Etherington, who is now serving time in Oakalla. He gave evidence in court and said he was convicted of the offense.

PLEA CHANGED

Robert G. Bodger, 2110 Belmont, accused of dangerous driving, changed his plea to guilty and was remanded to Tuesday for sentence.

Rev. Ronald MacLean, H.M.C.S. Ontario, charged with careless driving, was fined $35. He told police at the time of the accident that he fell asleep at the wheel and as a result hit a telephone pole.

Another motorist, Raymond K. Anderson, C.G.S. Estevan, claimed his car skidded on wet road and hit a tree causing about $700 damage to the car.

He was fined $35 and had his driver's license suspended. A report will be made to the motor vehicle department.

George H. Stiles, 1346 Wood, was fined $35 for violating a restricted driver's license.

Clifford C. Clarke, 18, 820 Bay, who faced a similar charge, received a suspended sentence and was placed on probation for three months.

"This is something I rarely do in motor cases," Magistrate H. C. Hall said. He thought a stiff penalty would be a hardship on Clarke's wife and child.

Theft Charge Still Facing Two Youths

Two Saanich youths will appear in R.C.M.P. court today to face a further charge of theft, police report.

R.C.M.P. also may lay further charges at up-Island centres, it was reported.

Donald F. Cousins, West Saanich Road, and R. J. Blythe, Elk Lake, both 21, appeared in Saanich court yesterday to face charges before Magistrate H. C. Hall.

Pleas of guilty were entered for the youths on charges that they stole a car radio valued at more than $25. A guilty plea also was entered for Blythe on a charge of stealing a car battery valued at less than $25.

Each stolen item has been recovered, Constable Joseph Armstrong said in evidence.

Magistrate Hall remanded both youths to Feb. 28.

J. B. Clearihue, Q.C., was defense counsel. Prosecutor was Lloyd McKenzie.

Court Decorum Loses Out in Assault Trial

A Polish logger from Youbou who was locked up by city police on a charge of assault and a Russian interpreter who forgot her glasses threw police court into an uproar yesterday.

Stanley Budzynski, aged about 39, was accused of assaulting and injuring Mrs. J. Kendell, 43, formerly of Youbou but now living in Vancouver.

He is also accused of assaulting her mother, Mrs. M. F. Pepin, 1117 Reno, where Mrs. Kendell was staying on the evening of the alleged assaults.

The interpreter appeared in court and gave her name as Mrs. Zoya Gloushko.

With the written charge in hand she walked to the prisoners' box to read it to the accused. After a brief pause and a few mumbled words she returned the document to the surprised magistrate.

"You didn't read it to him," the magistrate declared.

"Yes I did," she retorted.

"Did you read this?" Magistrate Hall said as he leaned over and pointed to the charge.

"No I can't see it without my glasses," she said with a cheerful smile.

Bedlam broke out. The magistrate threw up his hands and roared with the spectators.

With order restored, court clerk William Ostler waded into the tangle and read the charge to Mrs. Gloushko. She repeated it in Polish.

City prosecutor James Proudfoot then called Mrs. Kendell to the witness box.

Her mother and other witnesses were asked to leave the courtroom.

And then another uproar hit the courtroom.

Lawyer Lloyd McKenzie, who was defending the accused, leapt to his feet, rushed to the courtroom door, turned, and said:

"Your honor I would like to inform the court that one of the Crown witnesses is listening at the door."

Court officer Sgt. William Andrews rushed to the door and returned with Mrs. Pepin in tow.

"You can be committed for contempt of court," Magistrate Hall told Mrs. Pepin as he shook his finger at her.

Peace and quiet descended again and the trial continued with Mr. McKenzie cross-examining Mrs. Kendell.

She said that she and the accused had been drinking during the day and later in the evening went to the C.A.C. Gardens.

The accused started drinking again so she left and started walking along Store Street when Budzynski caught up with her, she said.

"He grabbed me by the throat and choked me," she said. "Then an officer came along and held him."

Police took the woman to her mother's home and a few hours later the accused showed up and after "kicking" the door open started another fracas, she testified.

"He hit me on the face and kicked me," she said, "then I went into a bedroom and my mother got him out."

The trial was adjourned until today.

Price to Rise For Seats In Parlor Car

An increase in the minimum fare for railway parlor car seats between Canadian stations will become effective March 1.

Announcement of the boost was made yesterday by the Canadian railways and the Pullman Company. Increased costs of operation are blamed for the seat fare boost.

Minimum fare for a parlor car seat will jump from 75 cents to $1. In cases where the rate is already $1 or more there will be no further increase.

Report Leaves Labor Dissatisfied

Recommendations for amendments to the Workmen's Compensation Act are good but not quite sufficient, Victoria union men indicated last night.

As a result, it appears trade unions will seek further upward revisions of the proposed new allowances.

"A step in the right direction," was the comment from Percy Bayment, secretary of Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council (A.F.L.-T.L.C.), and from Jack McKenzie, business agent for Local 1-118, International Woodworkers of America (C.I.O.-C.C.L.).

Each, however, also noted that the revised allowances would be far from satisfactory.

Chief Justice Gordon McG. Sloan recommended that the compensation scale be boosted to 70 per cent of earnings from 66⅔ per cent, and that the wage ceiling be lifted to $3,600 from $2,500.

[illegible] in briefs to the Royal commission on the act pressed for 100 per cent compensation.

"It takes just as much to live when a person is injured," as when he is gainfully employed, remarked Mr. McKenzie.

Recommendations are also included for widows, orphans and other dependents to receive higher benefits.

Meanwhile, the government has been charged with a "betrayal of promise" in not dealing with the Industrial Conciliation and Arbitration Act and hospital [illegible] and time on inquiry committees.

The premier has no excuse not to go ahead and "it's a shame to ditch this legislation," said Harold Thayer, reporting to the T.L.C. labor council for the legislative committee.

Victoria Chosen Above All

Know Victoria for about 20 years and you'll never want to live anywhere else.

That's the undivided opinion of Capt. R. W. MacMurray, R.N.R., and his wife.

They have come here to live following Capt. MacMurray's recent retirement from the C.P.R.

The captain and his wife feel they belong to Victoria, and over the past few days they have been meeting many friends.

Between 1934 and 1945, Capt. MacMurray was manager of the C.P.R.'s B.C. Coast Steamship Service here.

Then he was appointed managing director of Canadian Pacific Steamships, with headquarters in Montreal, a post held until his retirement at the end of last year.

Capt. and Mrs. MacMurray are temporarily residing at the Empress Hotel. Soon they will move into their fine new home on Gonzales Hill.

"It's certainly wonderful to be back in Victoria, and to meet so many old friends. There's just no other place in the world that compares with this," Capt. MacMurray said yesterday.

As a boy, Capt. MacMurray had spent seven years in square-rigged sailing ships. He joined the C.P.R. in 1910, and climbed steadily. During the First World War he served as an officer with the Royal Navy.

In 1925 he brought both the then new Princess Kathleen and the first Princess Marguerite from Scotland. That same year he was appointed marine superintendent of the coastal service, with headquarters in Ottawa.

Capt. MacMurray became manager of the service in 1934.

. . . FOR RICHER FLAVOR

Aylmer tomatoes . . . so plump and healthy . . . spend all summer basking in the sun . . . soaking up all the goodness and vitamins "Old Sol" can give. Then, red-ripe and filled with flavor, they're bottled within just a few hours of picking, as . . .

Active Stocks Market Guide

Every stock on the Toronto and Montreal active list increased in value with yesterday's rally, while only two of New York's most active ten finished lower.

Big gains were recorded by Calnorth Oil, which traded over 100,000 at Toronto for a gain of 15 cents, while Wright Hargreaves on a new ore strike at Chibougamau traded heavily for a gain of 27 cents.

Canadian Marconi was the most active industrial on both Montreal and Toronto.

Marconis Lead As Markets Stage Rally

MONTREAL, Feb. 21 (CP).—Stock prices today rebounded spiritedly from two days of weakness.

Major gainers included a number of the heaviest losers in the previous days' decline.

Senior oils and papers were prominent in the advance. Senior metals fell off in late dealings from their strong earlier path.

Canadian Marconi provided an active feature. The issue was up 75 cents at $5.25.

Fraser was up two points at 60 at one time but retreated a small fraction at the close.

Mines were firmer with the industrial market from the opening. Consolidated Candego, East Sullivan, Kenmayo and Tungsten Corporation were higher. Western oils followed more slowly but gained ground steadily. Calgary and Edmonton, Gaspe and Okalta firmed.

Sharp Recovery

TORONTO, Feb. 21 (CP).—Stock market prices surged upward to recover about half their Monday and Tuesday losses.

Trading opened briskly, tapered off during the first hour then continued at a slow but steady pace for the remainder of the session. Leading industrials changed hands evenly but base metals, western oils and penny golds attracted little speculative interest.

Papers, refining oils, liquors and manufacturing companies led industrials' upswing while utilities, agricultures, steels and foods drew firm support. Constructions held gains and losses in balance but banks and textiles eased.

Western oil gains ranged from pennies to about 60 cents. Anglo-Canadian, Calvan, Harman, Jupiter, Okalta, Royalite, Security Free, Trans Empire, and Canadian Williston were among the strongest gainers.

Senior golds were firm as Dome, Lake Shore, Malartic, McIntyre, Sigma and Wright-Hargreaves showed advances ranging to about 25 cents. Secondary issues traded higher.

Calnorth Moves

VANCOUVER, Feb. 21.—Although the averages with the exception of golds were lower, there were bright upward features in selected issues.

Calnorth was a heavy trader finishing up 15 cents on the day at $1.50. Del Rio gained 10 cents at $2.15, while Charter, Continental, Gas Exploration, Long Island and York were minor gainers.

Mines were more mixed with Quatsino dipping 3 cents at .58 while Bibis Yukon and Van Roi lost pennies. Higher were Beaverlodge at $1.10; Giant Mascot at $1.00; Silvan at $1.45; Western Uranium at $3.20 and Estella at $2.25.

Little activity was shown in industrials, with Alberta Distillers again out of favor at $2.75.

New York Swings

NEW YORK, Feb. 21 (AP).—A high-powered rally in the stock market today bounced prices up substantially after a severe two-day decline.

The reversal was largely a technical affair not unexpected after such a sharp fall as was registered previously this week.

Brokers said the fall undoubtedly uncovered a certain amount of investment buying, short covering, bargain hunting, and public participation.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks advanced 60 cents at $97.60 with the industrial and rail components each up 70 cents and utilities up 10 cents.

The list narrowed down to 1,109 individual issues on the tape of which 545 advanced and 289 declined, with one new high and 23 new lows.

Security markets will be closed Friday for George Washington's birthday.

London Oils Dip

LONDON, Feb. 21 (Reuters).—Most markets were dull but the falls were less severe than of late. Commodity shares remained out of favor and there were small but widespread declines in home industrials.

LONDON, Feb. 21 (AP).—Stocks close: Babcock & Wilcox 45s 3d, Boots Pure Drug 18s 10½d, Canadian Pacific 160¼, Central Mining 41¼, Consolidated Gold Fields 49s 4½d, Courtaulds 33s 3d, Hudson's Bay Co. 190s, Imperial Chemical 41s 9d, Imperial Tobacco 68s 9d, Metal Box 42s 9d, Mexican Eagle 23s 1½d, Rand Mines 115s.

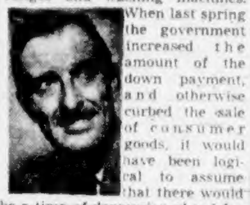
Finance House Thrives Despite Trade Curbs

By HARRY YOUNG
Colonist Business Editor

The 1951 report of Industrial Acceptance Corporation will come as a pleasant surprise to those who assumed that this was one of the companies likely to strike heavy weather under the governmental controls and heavy taxation imposed during the past 12 months.

Industrial Acceptance is the big Canadian financing firm which lends money to consumers for the instalment purchase for things like cars, refrigerators, ranges and washing machines.



When last spring the government increased the amount of the down payment, and otherwise curbed the sale of consumer goods, it would have been logical to assume that there would be a time of depression ahead for firms like Industrial Acceptance.

But this has proved far from the case. Industrial Acceptance found 1951 a record year. Income rose over $3,000,000 to $11,537,892; profit was $3,004,268 with earnings per share after preferred dividends at $7.85 per share, higher than it was in "free trading" 1950.

One explanation is that Industrial Acceptance reaped a big harvest in the early part of 1951 when the public, warned of increasing taxation and borrowing curbs went on a hurried buying spree for some of which they are still paying.

Industrial Acceptance Corporation, however, is not the only one which has this week produced 1951 figures which indicate that the present decline in stock prices may represent the overly pessimistic view.

The Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company found 1951 excellent in every way. The company announces that its earnings per common share increased from $7.14 to $14.26 with the net profit at $3,976,535, up $1,830,320.

With working capital increased by about $4,000,000 and inventories up by $5,000,000 Goodyear appears to be in a healthy condition, despite the fact that the output of new cars slumped by over 15 per cent in 1951.

Just what do you people do?..

Recently one of the members of our firm was rather surprised when a business acquaintance said to him: "I know you are in the financial business but, tell me, just what do you people do?" That set us to thinking that perhaps many of our friends and even our good clients might like to ask a similar question. Well . . . it is something that can't be answered in a single sentence. There are many sides to our business. For example . . .

We are underwriters . . .

This means that we puchase new issues of securities from Governments or well-managed business corporations, providing them immediately with the funds they require. In our underwritings, we are often called upon to act in an advisory capacity and to assist in the creation of the securities we ultimately buy.

We are distributors . . .

This means that, having due regard to the individual needs of our clients, we place with them the securities we have underwritten.

We are traders . . .

We buy and sell the securities . . . mainly bonds and debentures . . . of issues already outstanding. This assists in maintaining ready markets for outstanding issues.

We are brokers . . .

A. E. Ames & Co. are members of the Toronto and Montreal Stock Exchanges. As brokers, we execute buying and selling orders for listed stocks on a brokerage basis.

We are consultants . . .

Many of our clients lean on us for investment advice. For them we provide regular investment checks, valuations and advisory service.

Our head office is in Toronto, where Mr. Ames started this business in 1889. There are now 16 Ames offices in Canada, the United States and London, England, staffed by several hundred people.

All this adds up to a pretty comprehensive investment service . . . a service which is available to you. We are experienced in our business and believe you will find us the type of people you like to do business with.

J. H. LAMPREY

The Directors of THE YORKSHIRE CORPORATION LIMITED . . .

and its associated companies announce the appointment of Mr. J. H. Lamprey as President of The Yorkshire group, effective March 31st.

Mr. G. Peter Kaye, President since 1944, has resigned to take up the position as Headmaster of Shawnigan Lake School on Vancouver Island.

Mr. J. H. Lamprey joined the Company in 1945 as Manager of Yorkshire Securities Limited and was appointed Vice-President of The Yorkshire group in 1947. He is President of the Vancouver Stock Exchange and has been in the financial business for twenty years. During the war he was Deputy Timber Controller in the Department of Munitions and Supply.

Mr. Kaye, who joined the Company in England, came to Canada in 1934. The Directors have accepted his resignation with regret and are pleased to announce that he will continue as a Director.

The Yorkshire group of companies is controlled in the United Kingdom and, in addition to Mr. Kaye and Mr. Lamprey, has on its Canadian Board of Directors Messrs. A. H. Williamson, E. W. Lamprey, R. R. Arkell and E. B. Bull of Vancouver and Messrs. R. H. Edgell and R. L. Mayhew of Victoria. Mr. R. H. Edgell is also Vice-President in charge of Vancouver Island and will continue to serve in that capacity. The Company has been in business in British Columbia since 1888 and moved in 1950 to its new office premises in Yorkshire House, 900 West Pender Street, Vancouver. Offices are also maintained at 737 Fort Street, Victoria, and in England.

VICTORIA	55	16	32	7	187	212	39

Next games, tonight: Seattle at VICTORIA; Tacoma at Vancouver; Calgary at Edmonton.

Calgary's unpredictable Stampeders stayed right in the battle for one of the two P.C.H.L. play-off berths still at stake last night when they walloped Edmonton Flyers, 5-2, at Calgary.

Victory moved the Foothills crew within six points of the sixth-place Vancouver Canucks and nine points of the slipping Seattle Ironmen, and put them five points ahead of Victoria's last-place Cougars.

Calgary's triumph also made things more uncomfortable for the Ironmen, no cinch for the playdowns with Vancouver and Calgary both going reasonably well and both with a chance to make the playdowns. Still within mathematical consideration, the Cougars could make it an interesting four-way battle if they could just get a small win-streak but their chances are growing dimmer with each passing game.

ALL TRAILERS IN ACTION

All four trailers get into action on tonight's three-game card and results will have an important bearing on play-off positions. Victoria hosts Seattle, Stamps go to Edmonton and Canucks, without playing-coach Hugh Currie, entertain Tacoma.

Checking back two months brings to light some interesting figures. Since Christmas Day, which found Calgary last, Vancouver seventh, Victoria tied for fourth, and Seattle a sturdy second, only Vancouver of the four trailers has done much.

Canucks have played .565 hockey since Boxing Day with 12 wins, nine losses and one tie, and have actually picked up 17 points on the Cougars since Jan. 10. The Cougars were six points ahead at that date with five games in hand. Now they are 11 points in arrears with only four games in hand. Since Boxing Day, last season's champions have played only .174 hockey with three wins, 18 defeats and three ties to show for 23 games.

ALMOST AS BAD

Ironmen have been almost as bad. Since Dec. 26, they have played at a .316 clip with only five wins and two ties in 19 games. Going back to Dec. 9, when they had a 16-8-4 rating, they have won six, lost 17 and tied four.

Stampeders haven't exactly been a ball of fire since Boxing Day with eight wins and five ties in 25 games but have managed to gain nine points on Seattle and 13 on Victoria, enough to get into contention.

Victoria coach Roger Leger was not certain of his line-up for tonight's game but stated it would probably be the same as the one which lost, 1-0, to Vancouver Tuesday with Bob Ballance and Joe Medynski sitting it out.

AGAR PADS TOTAL

At Calgary last night, Stamps' George Agar increased his lead in the individual scoring race to four points by getting credit for three assists. Norm Larson became the 12th player to boast 25 or more goals when he scored twice for the winners to boost his total to 26.

Garriott Begins Job at Once As Seventh Manager of A's

By JIM TANG

Virgil Cecil "Rabbit" Garriott, 35-year-old outfield star who played for seven seasons with Los Angeles Angels of the Coast League, last night officially became the seventh manager of Victoria Athletics who will be starting their seventh season in the Western International Baseball League on April 22.

Garriott agreed to terms at a meeting with club directors a few hours after he flew in from Los Angeles and club directors were quick to tab him as a "natural" following a short and amicable conference.

WILL SIGN TODAY

Actual contract signing will take place this morning and Garriott will emplane immediately for Los Angeles to start his new duties at once. Business-manager Reg Patterson stated that the new manager will spend his time between now and the April 1 opening of the A's training camp at Salinas scouting players in the Los Angeles area and attending the Riverside camp of the Portland Beavers, where he will get a first hand knowledge of players the Coast League club will be sending here.

Garriott is the third manager in two seasons. He succeeds Bob Sturgeon, who succeeded Dick Barrett in mid-season last year. Sturgeon will be playing manager at Ventura in the California State League while Barrett reportedly has made no baseball connection this season. Marty Krug, Earl Bolyard, Ted Norbert and Laurel Harney are the other ex-managers. Norbert was considered again this season but his salary demands and the Victoria preference for a playing-manager resulted in the signing of Garriott.

WANTS FULL CONTROL

Victoria's new manager left the definite impression last night that he has definite ideas on how to run a ball club and that he will insist on full control of his players on and off the field and a voice in all player decisions.

"When I'm not running the ball club, that's when we part company," he told the directors, who gave every indication that they didn't mind this at all.

Garriott also indicated he had a preference for younger players and it will be surprising indeed if he will keep around any veterans who aren't willing to put out.

"I can get more out of a youngstr who is trying than out of a veteran who doesn't care," he maintained.

SECOND FLING

This will be his second fling as a manager. He was asked to take over at Visalia in mid-season last year when that California State League club was floundering in last place and on financial rocks. He drove his club into fourth place and came within an ace of winning the Shaughnessy play-off, losing out in the final.

This will be his 17th season in organized baseball. Born in Harristown, Ill., on August 15, 1916, he started his baseball career with Columbus in the Sally League in 1936, where he was a teammate of Enos Slaughter, veteran outfielder of the St. Louis Cardinals. Four years later, at Macon, Eddie Stanky, new manager of the Cards was among his teammates.

MISSED MAJOR CHANCE

Garriott came to Los Angeles in 1943, had a big season in 1944 and was called up by the Chicago Cubs. He lost his major-league chance when called into the U.S. Army early in the 1945 season. He was discharged late in 1946, played out the last few weeks of the season with the Cubs and rejoined Los Angeles in 1947. He remained with the Angels until he took over the managerial reins at Visalia.

Short and stocky — five feet, eight inches and 170 pounds—Garriott has a record which shows base speed, good long-ball punch, and a good eye at the plate which has usually found him batting first or second. He four times led his league in stolen bases and averaged over 100 bases on balls a season at Los Angeles.

PLAYERS IN MIND

Less than five pounds overweight and appearing ready for play, Garriott intends to be a full-time player. He hopes to find the right veteran to assist him as a coach and has in mind Keith Simon, one-time Bremerton pitcher who hits well enough to play full time in the outfield or at first base. Garriott is also interested in signing Clint Cameron, the hard-hitting ex-Tri-City outfielder and has a Negro pitcher in mind who would help the A's in his opinion. Both Simon and Cameron are free agents.

Cleaners Seeking Lead, Play at Alberni Today

Victoria Individuals and Alberni Athletics meet tonight in what is probably the most important game of the Vancouver Island senior "A" men's basketball play-offs.

The game, third in the best-of-five series which is tied at one game each, will be played at Alberni. Victory is almost a must for Individuals as a loss will leave them with the monstrous task of winning the final two games on the Alberni floor. A win for Athletics tonight will leave them overwhelming favorites to win at least one of the remaining games to take the title.

Fred Bishop, manager of the Athletics, reported his club in good shape last night, coming out of the first two games without injury. He seemed both worried and confident, however.

Bishop stated that the Athletics would probably use a juggled line-up but was unable to state what the starters will be.

WILL SCORE MORE

"We will score more than 13 points in each half," Bishop said, mentioning that the Athletics had collapsed more than once this season in the second half as they did against Individuals on Monday.

Pat Horgan, manager of Individuals, was confident. "We will be phoning down a winning score," he said.

Coach Doug Peden said he would vary his strategy, depending on how the play goes in the first few minutes. He reported the club ready after two strenuous practices to work out kinks and stiffness from Monday's game.

Fourth game will be played tomorrow and the fifth, if necessary, on Monday.

Only Canada, Sweden Undefeated In Olympic Hockey—Clash Today

Poland	0	4	1	19	40	1
Norway	0	6	0	10	51	0

OSLO, Feb. 21 (CP).—In the midst of all the fuss over playing tactics, the Canadians and Swiss tonight played one of the cleanest and fastest games of the Olympic hockey tournament and the Canadians breezed in winners, 11-2.

It was the fifth straight for the undefeated Mercurys from Edmonton.

The big jolt of the tournament, however, came with the upset of the United States team 4-2 by Sweden, European champions, and it was the fifth straight for the Swedes too.

The still-favored Canadians meet the Swedes tomorrow night in a game that may well decide the championship. Norway's weak team is Canada's opponent Saturday, and then the United States and Canada tangle Sunday.

BEST GOAL AVERAGE

Canada's bid for the title has additional strength—the best for-and-against goal average among any of the leading teams in the nine-country round-robin series.

The Canada-Switzerland game tonight was practically free of body-checking, a downright necessity in hockey at home and something the Edmonton boys had to call on before defeating the tough Czechoslovakians the other night.

There was no need for it tonight. The Canadians ran up a nine-goal lead in the first two periods and Switzerland didn't score at all until the third period when the Canadians eased up.

The Canadian defense was tight and the Swiss puck-carriers, with few good scoring chances, were often shunted off into the corners.

Playing-manager Frank Sullivan led the Canadian goal production with three, and Billy Gibson and Engelbert Miller had two each.

Jack Davies, Billy Dawe, Bruce Dickson and Al Purvis scored one apiece.

"SHOVING" PENALTY

The only penalty in the game went to Billy Gibson in the second period for what the referees called "shoving."

The Canadians fired 41 shots at the Swiss goal. Eric Patterson, in Canada's nets, had only 21 shots to handle.

The Swedes showed no stage fright against the Americans. The European champions tossed rugged play right back at the Americans.

Czechoslovakia, with only one loss in the series and that to the Canadians, romped over Finland 11-2, taking third place in the standing.

Germany scored its first victory, defeating winless Norway 6-2.

The Czechs and Swiss meet tomorrow night. Finland plays Germany and the United States plays Poland.

New Champion Now Retired

OSLO, Feb. 21 (CP). — Jeannette Altwegg, 22-year-old English girl who prefers the study of child psychology to skating, won the Olympic figure skating championship last night and then announced her retirement.

"I've always dreamed of winning the Olympic title and now I am satisfied," said Miss Altwegg, who also holds the world title.

"This is my last skating except for exhibitions in England and Scotland. Now I would like to study child psychology in Switzerland."

Next games, tomorrow: Chicago at Montreal, Detroit at Toronto.

Montreal Canadiens moved into a second-place tie with Toronto Maple Leafs and Boston Bruins closed to within a point of the fourth-place New York Rangers as a result of Thursday night's National Hockey League games.

Montreal came from behind to earn a 3-3 tie with Boston while the lowly Chicago Black Hawks slapped down the Leafs 5-1.

Two third-period goals enabled Canadiens to tie Boston before 14,301 fans in Montreal. The single point gained in the tie was important for the Bruins in their drive for the fourth and last playoff. In the early stages it appeared that Boston had Canadiens handcuffed. They led 2-1 at the end of the first period and added another in the second period. But in the third period the youth of Canadiens came into its own.

ROOKIES STAR

Canadiens' goals were all scored by rookies. Dickie Moore tallied two, including the tying marker with less than four minutes left, while Paul Meger added the other.

The victory of the last-place Hawks over Toronto was witnessed by 9,614 Chicago fans. Two fights in the hotly contested game resulted in majors to rookie Fred Hucul of Chicago and Hugh Bolton of the Leafs as well as misconducts to Bill Juzda of the Leafs and "Rags" Raglan of the Hawks.

Liberty Files Huge Suit Against Majors

CHICAGO, Feb. 21 (INS)—The Liberty broadcasting system today filed a $12,000,000 anti-trust suit against 13 major league clubs, the commissioner of baseball and presidents of the National and American Leagues.

Only the Chicago White Sox, the Brooklyn Dodgers and the Cincinnati Reds were exempted from the suit filed in federal court in Chicago.

The action charged that banning of the plaintiff's "game-of-the-day" broadcasts of major league games was a conspiracy to violate the anti-trust statutes.

The White Sox and the Dodgers have agreed to permit the network to broadcast their games. Gordon McLendon of Dallas, Tex., president of the broadcasting company, said the Cincinnati Reds were not named in the suit because of a "legal matter." He did not elaborate.

Besides the 14 teams, listed as corporations, baseball commissioner Ford C. Frick, National League president Warren Giles, and American League president William Harridge are named defendants.

Main Upsets Don McNeill To Gain Semis

NEW YORK, Feb. 21 (CP)—Lorne Main, 21-year-old Canadian Davis Cupper, advanced to the semi-finals of the United States indoor tennis championship tonight by upsetting the veteran Don McNeill, national outdoor champion more than a decade ago.

Main, a real comer in international tennis, never was better as he outlegged McNeill 6-4, 5-7, 6-1, 9-7.

Defending champion Billy Talbert also moved into the semi-finals with an easy 6-3, 6-3, 6-3 victory over Nils Rohlsson of Sweden.

Main, seeded No. 4 among the foreign entrants, broke McNeill's service in the first set. From then on, it was a question of whether Main could wear down McNeill, now an advertising executive who plays only sporadically. McNeill was mighty tired when he stepped on the court for the fourth set.

By IAN GLENDAY

Esquimalt High, rapidly becoming the best "second-half" club in the Inter-High School Basketball League, staged another of its last-ditch rallies yesterday to trip Mount View High, 30-27, at Mount View.

It was the first loss of the season for the suburbanites and, combined with Oak Bay's 82-64 victory over Mount Douglas, threw a monkey-wrench into the league standings.

Mount View, Victoria High and Esquimalt share the top berth with Esquimalt having played one more game than the other two pacesetters.

COACH GETS JITTERS

Coach Bill Reid stated after the game "that if his boys staged many more down-to-the-wire finishes, he would have a bad case of ulcers by the end of the season." He chewed his fingernails down to the quick as he watched his charges fall behind 10-4 at the end of the first quarter and 18-12 at half-time intermission.

However, the outlook changed for the better in the third quarter as the Dockyarders, using their height advantage, zoomed into a 25-22 lead at the end of the period and maintained their three-point edge with some effective stalling until the final whistle.

SETS SCORING MARK

At Mount Douglas, Laurie Veitch, Oak Bay's elongated pivotman, found the small gym to his liking to rack up a total of 32 points, a season's high in league play to date.

Oak Bay was never headed, jumping into an early first-quarter lead and holding a 28-23 edge at the half. Paced by Ken Barnes, who added 23 points, and Veitch, Bays broke the contest wide open in the third quarter, outscoring the Gordon Head crew by 11 points.

Bob Skillings turned in a brilliant game for the losers to lead Mount Douglas with 20 points.

Lineups follow:

Esquimalt: Harris, Hunter 6, Jones 11, C. Bennett, R. Bennett 2, Carter, Shergold 2, Rex Smith, Dobbie 8. Total 30.

Mount View: Winter 3, Murray 11, Snowsell 8, Pringle, Price 1, Grainger, Pritchard 2, S. Knudsen, R. Knudsen, Pett. Total 27.

Oak Bay: Veitch 32, Little 2, Sharp, Barnes 23, Lewis 11, C. Smith 4, Colbell 4, Priestley 1, B. Smith 5, Browne, Mitchell. Total 82.

Mount Douglas: Bonar 16, Thomsen 14, Skillings 20, Johnston, Ball 4, Glass 4, Lum 2, Lidstone, Easton 2. Total 64.

Slim Margin Captured By McMorrans

McMorrans' squeezed out a 36-32 victory over Cumberland City Merchants in the first game of a two-game total-point series for the Vancouver Island intermediate "B" boys' basketball championship at Sooke last night.

The Saanich champions will carry the four-point edge with them when they travel to the Cumberland Recreation Institute Friday, Feb. 29, for the deciding game.

Captain Gordie Jones and Ralph Bennett were the only two players who were close to their usual form, according to Eric McMorran, manager and sponsor of the team. Jones paced the scorers with 13 points while Bennett pushed up nine.

Line-ups follow:

McMorran's—Jones 13, Dobbie 6, Garden 2, Crabbe 4, Bennett 9, Blenkensen, Harris, Smith. Total 36.

Cumberland—Milbourne 8, Roses 6, Wynn 7, Tobacco 9, Edwards 2, Mounce, Brown, Banks, Vescrott. Total 32.

Giants Reach Agreement With Maglie

NIAGARA FALLS, N.Y., Feb. 21 (INS)—Sal Maglie, the National League's top pitcher last season, said today he has reached a salary agreement with the New York Giants.

The righthanded ace, who won 23 games for the league champions, was their lone remaining holdout. Maglie had been asking for $40,000, and it is believed he agreed to a contract calling for $37,000.

Maglie said he will leave for the Giants' spring training base at Phoenix, Ariz., Saturday to sign his contract.

Button Match, Medal Round Reset Sunday

The city senior golf button match and the monthly medal round, which were postponed last Sunday because of snow, will be played at the Gorge Vale Golf Club Sunday.

Bob Fleming and John Merriman will make their ninth defense of the lapel decorations against the challenge of Gordon Verley and Don Gowan of the Uplands Golf Club.

The match will be held in conjunction with the medal round. The players are scheduled to tee-off at 12.30 p.m.

Draw and starting times for the medal round follow:

9.30—A. Senior, D. Straith, E. Barber, K. Hincks.
9.37—R. Headley, J. Briggs, V. Clarkson, M. Bartkow.
9.44—L. Holding, R. Carroll, J. Walker, V. Lowe.
9.51—V. Painter, J. Robertson, G. Bigelow, J. Clark.
9.58—W. McColl, L. Carroll, H. Linehain, K. Lea.

Bid for Two-Game Grey Cup Final Expected to Fail

TORONTO, Feb. 21 (CP).—The Canadian Rugby Union annual meeting opened tonight amid increasing indications that the second attempt in two years to approve a two-game Grey Cup series was doomed to failure again.

The Big Four Union again will propose a total-points series to be staged in Toronto and Montreal but lacking support of the Western Interprovincial Football Union, it is unlikely that the suggestion will get past the talking stage.

A. U. Chipman of Winnipeg, C.R.U. vice-president with voting power for the Western Canada league, said the west will definitely oppose the move but will join with the Big Four to boost the price of Grey Cup tickets to $4, $5 and $6, plus tax. The increase would be $1 over the prices last year.

Chipman said he may suggest consideration of a proposal for a game in Montreal the Wednesday preceding the Grey Cup final between the runners-up in Western Canada and the Big Four Union. He believed such a game would be attractive to Montreal fans.

He indicated that the west no longer considers a two-game Grey Cup final feasible as it had for a time last year because it would lessen the interest that a single engagement generates. On the possibility of eventually staging the game in the west, he said the weather there in November and the lack of a big enough stadium are factors against it.

Western delegates, including Walter Sprague and Ken Montgomery of Edmonton, will press for a 45-per-cent share of the tickets for the Grey Cup. However, eastern delegates said there is little chance they will be successful.

The Big Four likely will draw support for two games from the Quebec Rugby Football Union. That would be three votes but against it would be six ballots if, as expected, the Ontario Rugby Football Union and the Western and Eastern Intercollegiate Unions line up with the Western Canada Conference.

VOTING POWER

At present the two major leagues and the O.R.F.U. have two votes each and the Q.R.F.U. and the two intercollegiate groups have one vote each.

Chipman said the Western Canada Conference will propose that in future only the leagues that operate senior teams be permitted a vote. This would wipe out the voting power of the Western Intercollegiate League, now defunct, and the Q.R.F.U. which only has intermediate and junior groups.

It would also give the two major leagues voting control.

The two-game proposal, the recommendation for an increase in ticket prices and the matter of voting control will not be discussed until Saturday when a general meeting, open to the press, will be held. The executive will meet in closed session tomorrow.

A proposal to increase the number of imports from seven to eight is favored by the Big Four and western Canada leagues.

The west once more will attempt to break down the barriers for increased blocking. It seeks 10-yard blocking for all backfielders and unlimited blocking by the receiving side on punts and kick-offs up to the point where the ball was kicked or from where it was scrimmaged.

Revision of the substitution rule to eliminate the necessity of players lining up on the sidelines for one play will be recommended by the Big Four and Western Canada Conference.

Fishing Good at Inlet Despite Cold Weather

Although the cold weather of the past week has kept all but the hardiest fishermen indoors, Saanich Inlet still offers good sport. Harry Peard reports from the Anchorage Boathouse at Brentwood that ice in Brentwood Bay for the past few mornings has prevented boats from getting out in the early morning, when fishing is at its best. However, a path was broken through into open water yesterday by noon and Peard believes that early-morning fishing will again be possible unless further cold weather sets in.

Large grilse are being caught in the Brentwood area from Whittaker's Point down to The Boulder and McKenzie Bay while springs are to be had at the mouth of Tod Inlet early in the morning or at dusk. Hugh Tumility boated a 20-pounder Sunday and a 14-pounder Friday near Tod Inlet just before dark. He caught both on No. 5 50-50 Wonder spoons, using a pound of weight and about 150 feet of wire line. Another angler caught four jacksprings in the same area on bucktail flys while a five-pound spring was taken off Bamberton on the same lure. Bucktail flys and abalone spoons are the best grilse lures, alternating in effectiveness almost from day to day.

Fishing is also reported good at the Goldstream end of the inlet although ice prevented much activity there too. Hall's Boathouse reports last Sunday's fishing was excellent, with several limit catches made in the vicinity of Goldstream Island and Misery Bay. Bucktail flys trolled on the surface have been the most successful lure there but small spoons are also scoring. Morning fishing is the best, if a bit colder.

R. W. Ray topped the fishermen at Goldstream with a 17½-pound spring taken on a No. 4½ Wonder spoon Sunday afternoon. J. Menard boated two blues and an eight and a half pound spring; G. Beale and F. Wade shared a limit catch of two jacks and 18 blues; G. H. Gilman and Roy Baker had 15 blues; O. Comerford limited on Friday and again on Sunday and C. Bartram took his limit Sunday; B. Wallis, C. Menzies and R. Wallis shared 23 blues. Others who were successful in varying degrees included: F. Anderson, D. Hubber, H. Johanasson, M. Mellin, Bill Packford, C. Panting, W. Thirkett, Fred Curle, Andy Anderson and B. Haslock.

Trout as Bomb Targets?

According to a report the writer picked up in a New York paper, United States anglers are up in arms over the decision of the U.S. Navy to use Idaho's famed Pend Oreille Lake for bombing tests. And no wonder. Pend Oreille is the home of record-sized trout and known the world over to anglers and it seems almost insane to use it as a target for bombs when there must be hundreds of other lakes such as the worthless, from a fishing point of view, Salt Lake which would do just as well. The government promise to replant fish killed is certainly no soap. It will take many years for trout to reach the size they do in Pend Oreille . . . Export of fishing worms is a big industry in Maine, which annually ships out more than 500,000 pounds of wriggling bait, much of it to California by air freight. That's a lot of worms, brother . . . The 1951 New Brunswick deer kill has been set at 23,725, of which only 2,954 were shot by non-resident hunters. It was the first season in history that the resident kill went over the 20,000 mark. It was also a record year in that it was all done with only one hunting fatality . . . "How well do fish see" is the heading for an article in the February issue of Forest and Outdoors, which the writer especially recommends to Stan "I'll get one yet" Williams, who throws caution to the wind when he gets his spinning gear in hand . . . Among things I didn't know before and don't care about now that I've found out are that the courting dance of the Prince Rudolph Bird of Paradise is done upside down on a branch and that the common shrew will eat twice its own weight of food each day and will starve to death in three hours if food is not obtainable . . . Put a small spinner in front of your bucktail fly for best results in Saanich Inlet, work your line and speed up your boat . . . There has been little in the way of reports on steelheading in Island rivers, which is altogether natural during cold spells which usually find rivers a bit on the low side . . . It seems that fish can suffer from human ailments such as ulcers and claustrophobia. Detailed to discover the reasons thousands of bullheads died in Skaneateles and Oneida Lakes in New York, Professor Wilford Dence of the State College of Forestry, Syracuse University, reported that the high mortality rate was due to "an ulcerous condition caused by a feeling of confinement."

Eagles Seeking Ninth Straight Soccer Win

Few soccer teams can boast a record as impressive as that of Eagles, Division V leaders in the Lower Island Junior and Juvenile Football Association.

Coached by Carl Pedersen, Eagles have eight victories without a loss and have not been scored on so far this season. This is the team's first year in the Association.

The club will be out to stretch its margin to nine straight triumphs when it meets St. Louis College at Brooke Street Park tomorrow at 1 p.m.

Other league games scheduled over the week end follow:

TOMORROW

Division III—James Bay Merchants vs. Eagles, Lower Beacon Hill, 1 p.m.

Division IV—Mic Mac's vs. Combine Pee Wees, Upper Beacon Hill, 1 p.m.

SUNDAY

Junior Division—Cowichan Braves vs. Victoria Combines, Duncan, 2 p.m.; Victoria College vs. Heaneys, Shelbourne Street Park, 2 p.m.

Division I—Tillicums vs. Maycock Optical, Lower Beacon Hill, 1 p.m.

Division II—Army, Navy and Air Force Vets vs. Harris Cycles, Upper Beacon Hill, 1 p.m.

Golf--- Here's How

By SAM SNEAD
Golf's Greatest Player-Teacher

Pictured is a golfer determining which is his master eye. Form a circle with your thumb and forefinger. With both eyes open look at some object 10 or 20 feet off. Get the object in the centre of the ring. Now close your left eye. If the object remains in the centre of the ring your master eye is your right. If, when you close your right eye, the object remains in the centre of the ring, your master eye is your left eye. In most people, the left eye is the master. So in shifting your head slightly to the right in the address position, you will not only be better able to draw a bead on your ball, but, and more important, you will already have your head in the position desired without moving it throughout the backswing and the swing down to the ball.

Legion, Wests Play Tomorrow In Cup Opener

Legion and Victoria West clash in a first-round match in the Jackson Cup series tomorrow, giving soccer fans a preview of the Garrison Cup final. The game is billed for Royal Athletic Park at 2.30.

The clubs, first and second-half winners, respectively, in the Victoria and District Football Association, will meet again at a later date in a sudden-death playoff for the Garrison Cup, emblematic of the league championship.

Esquimalt and Alcos clash in another first-round Jackson Cup match at Lower Beacon Hill Sunday. Civil Service opposes Duncan Native Sons in the final first-round match to be set later while Heaneys receive a bye.

Button Retains Olympic Blade Title; Canadian Champion Takes Fifth Spot

The standing (based on 10-5-4-3-2-1 for the first six places):

Norway	101
United States	73½
Austria	56
Finland	41
Germany	28
Netherlands	24
Italy	23
Switzerland	13
Sweden	10½
Great Britain	10
France	7
Canada	6½
Belgium	1
Japan	½

OSLO, Feb. 21 (CP).—Peter Firstbrook, Canada's 18-year-old senior champion in his own country, tonight placed fifth in the Olympic figure skating championship, won again by Dick Button of the United States.

Young Firstbrook, a Toronto high school student, was never reckoned to show the class of the Englewood, N.J., skater who also holds the world title.

But Firstbrook's placing was considered a creditable showing. The Toronto boy was just entering competition when Button won the 1948 Olympic title at St. Moritz, Switzerland.

Hayes Jenkins, 19-year-old University student from Akron, Ohio, took over fourth place with his smooth free-skating performance tonight. Firstbrook was fourth after the compulsory figures.

GROGAN THIRD

Helmutt Seibt of Austria took second place in the competition. Jimmy Grogan of Colorado Springs, Colo., was third, and Italy's Carlo Fassi sixth.

France's 12-year-old young champion, Alain Giletti, maintained his seventh placing through the compulsory and free skating phases.

He was the idol of the small crowd of 5,000 in Bislett Stadium and flashed a big smile when the result was announced.

Judging of the free skating, which ended the competition tonight, is based on selection of program by the skaters and execution.

Button had a total of 192.256 points and nine place points in the intricate judging system, in which the fewer place points indicate higher ranking.

GAINS TWO POINTS

The scoring for Firstbrook was 173.122 points and 43 place points. His fifth ranking meant that Canada picked up a couple more points in the unofficial team standing and now has 6½. Norway, which did its heavy scoring in ski events, remained at the head of the list, its 101 total unchanged.

With three point-winners in the first six placings of the figure skating—only event decided today—the United States picked up 17 points to stretch its total to 73½. Hellmut's second place added five points to Austria's total, now 56.

GERMAN TEAM LEADS

The four-man bobsled competition started today on the Frogner-Seteren treacherous chute, and Andreas Ostler of Germany and his mates took the lead in the two heats held today. The remaining two will be held tomorrow.

The Germans' 500-pound oak and steel sled whipped down the run of nearly a mile in total time of two minutes, 34.13 seconds for the two heats. The United States No. 1 sled, driven by Stan Benham of Lake Placid, N.Y., was so close—2:35.22—that the championship will hinge on the final run tomorrow.

Defends Paddle Crown

Three Victoria girls — Nan Craig, Val Druce and Iris Lindquist — will compete in the New Westminster-Fraser Valley table tennis tournament at New Westminster today and tomorrow.

Mrs. Craig will be defending the women's singles title she won last year.

Ed Varga, Ab Ellis Win Individual Puck Honors

Ed Varga picked up two hat-tricks Wednesday night. He scored three goals against Individuals and also captured the Commercial Hockey League's individual scoring championship for the third straight season.

The 7-Ups centre completed the season with 25 goals and 18 assists, both league highs, for a total of 43 points. Teammate Norm LaCree was his nearest rival, ten points back. Army's Stu Vary was third with 28 points.

Victoria Merchants' Ab Ellis took the goal-tending honors with a goals-against average of 2.59. He was beaten 44 times in 17 games. Sparks of Navy was runner-up with a 3.11 average.

24-page book condensation of the Canadian saga "Grass Beyond the Mountains"

Only 17 years ago, two Wyoming cowboys rode north into British Columbia and staked claim to a vast cattle range never before seen by white men.

In March Reader's Digest is Richmond Hobson's dramatic first-hand account of their struggle against the wilderness; of pioneer dangers lit by the neighborliness and humor of frontier life.

Says the Christian Science Monitor of this book: "Grass Beyond the Mountains is a true story of all-conquering imagination, daring and work."

Get your March Reader's Digest today: 40 articles of lasting interest, condensed from leading magazines, current books.

NEW 3-WAY WONDER SHAVE GIVES FASTER SMOOTHER SHAVES

SPECIAL TRIAL OFFER
so you can prove to yourself you get the best shave of your life!
LIMITED TIME ONLY!
BIG 60¢ JAR for only 35¢

"I always hated that rough scrapy feeling when I shaved," says store manager John McConnell of Vancouver. "But there's no razor scrape with 3-Way Shave. It leaves my face cool and fresh."

"My skin is tender," says rigger Bill Russell of Welland, Ont. "Shaving irritated it until a friend told me about 3-Way Shave. Now I get smooth, refreshing shaves every morning. It's swell!"

● No matter how you shave—brushless or lather—you're in for a grand surprise, first time you try new 3-WAY SHAVE! It's the new "wonder shave" that takes up where other shaves leave off—does more than just soften your beard—it's medicated—good for your skin! Here's how it works.

1. Prepares whiskers, skin. Softens toughest whiskers. Provides lubricating film for smooth razor glide. Protects tender skin.

2. Painless shaves. Has exclusive medicated built-in pain preventive to soothe tender skin. Shave in real comfort for first time!

3. Helps heal invisible razor damage you get with every shave. It's medicated. Grooms skin—helps keep it healthier, younger-looking.

HOW TO USE—If you use a lather cream or soap, apply 3-Way Shave before lathering and after shaving. Or use it alone as a Brushless Shaving Cream.

If you don't agree it gives you by far the best shave you ever had—return it to Noxzema, Toronto. Your money will be refunded. SAVE. Get the special trial jar of Noxzema's 3-Way Shave, a generous 60¢ jar for only 35¢—today! Also in handy tubes (regular price). At all drug, dept., and syndicate stores.

Tory Group Waxes Proud

—YESTERDAY IN THE LEGISLATURE—

By JIM NESBITT

The new Tory opposition in the Legislature was proud Thursday. Mr. Anscomb made his first speech as leader of the opposition.

It seemed impossible for him to get mad at Premier Johnson for firing him so unceremoniously out of the government a few weeks back. Mr. Anscomb admitted himself that he's actually not very disturbed, just a little sad that the premier would so badly break up the Coalition.

Indeed, looking at Mr. Anscomb as he made his speech, one might almost say he seemed glad to be free of Liberal strings at last—and thank goodness, not his fault either.

[illegible]

He'll no doubt be plenty sarcastic, too.

Single Cow Not Cattle; Court Dismisses Case

A cow legally is not cattle.

The decision was reached yesterday in Saanich police court by Magistrate H. C. Hall only after he consulted an Oxford dictionary and several volumes of provincial statutes including the Municipal Act.

In no search could he find where the word cattle constituted in meaning.

The findings resulted in dismissal of a charge against Reginald Mann, R.R. 2, Victoria, of permitting cattle to stray.

One cow was the only animal involved. Defense lawyer J. D. McIntosh urged dismissal of the case on grounds that the disputed word cattle was plural and could not apply to the case.

Milk Sales Decline 3 Per Cent

[illegible] by 3.45 per cent in Nanaimo from sales in each area the previous year.

Figures in the report showed that 555,534 fewer quarts of milk were sold in 1951 than in 1950 in the Greater Victoria area. Total sale in quarts last year was [illegible].

Island Scouts Honored

Citations for gallantry have been awarded to three Vancouver Island Scouts by Viscount Alexander of Tunis, K.G., in his capacity as Chief Scout of Canada.

The Silver Cross awarded for gallantry with considerable risk to his life went to Scout Robert McDonald, 11, of the 1st Cowichan Troop, Lake Cowichan, for the rescue of a drowning man at the risk of his own life.

The Gilt Cross awarded to those who do exceptionally well in a time of emergency without special risk to themselves was awarded Scout Robert Pannett, 12, of the 1st Ganges Pack.

He received the award for the manner in which he assisted a boy who had fallen from a float in Ganges Harbor, thereby saving his life.

Patrol Leader [illegible], Rutherford, 16, of the 2nd Duncan Troop, received a Letter of Commendation for Gallantry for his assistance to another boy who was in danger of drowning in Quamichan Lake.

It is likely an inquest will be held into the death of 21-year-old Robert J. Heal, drowned Monday afternoon when he fell from the naval auxiliary tug Glendon in Esquimalt Harbor.

Results of a navy board of inquiry will be known shortly. The board reported yesterday it had completed an investigation. The Victoria deckhand presumably slipped and fell from the tug.

A search started immediately, and has been continuing during every daylight hour since.

6 IN MEMORIAMS

MALSTROM—In loving memory of my dear wife who fell asleep on Feb. 22, 1951.
Her memory is as dear today as in the hour of her passing.
—Ever remembered by her loving husband.

MALSTROM—In loving memory of our dear mother who left us on Feb. 22, 1951.
And while she lies in peaceful sleep,
Her memory we shall always keep.
—Ever remembered by sons and daughters and grandchildren.

WYBER—Mr. D. Wyber.
His smiling way and pleasant face are a pleasure to recall.
He had a kindly word for each and died beloved by all.
Some day we hope to meet him some day, we know not when,
To clasp his hand in the better land never to part again.
His wife, Mrs. Wyber; Bill, Beth and family.

B.C. Subject Of Conference On Resources

Theme of the fifth annual resources conference to be held in Victoria Feb. 27, 28 and 29 will be "National and International Aspects of B.C.'s Natural Resources."

The conference, representing industry, university and government, will be opened by Hon. H. R. Bowman, minister of agriculture.

First item on the agenda after the official opening is an address by John D. Chapman, assistant professor of geography, U.B.C., on "Climate of British Columbia."

Sessions will include talks on recreation and wildlife, agriculture, forestry, mining and fisheries.

Certification Given Unions

Certification as bargaining authority has been issued five Vancouver Island unions, the Labor Relations Board has announced.

The Carpenters and Joiners, Local 2527, has been certified for Builders Sash & Door Ltd. employees in Victoria. International Woodworkers of America, Local 1-363, will bargain for Mahood Logging Company employees at Oyster Bay. Office staff is not included. Both unions are C.I.O.-C.C.L. affiliates.

International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, Local 230 (A.F.L.-T.L.C.), is certified for journeymen, electricians and helpers at Mais Electrical Service, Victoria. General Teamsters' Union, Local 885 (T.L.C.), has been certified for truck drivers employed by Mickey's Transfer Ltd., Port Alberni.

Employees, except teachers, of Sooke School District 62, will bargain through their federal union (T.L.C.).

Talks Resume At Oak Bay

Negotiations will resume Tuesday between Oak Bay municipality and its Municipal Employees' Association, council decided Wednesday.

A 15-cent-an-hour wage boost for outside workers and an average $26-a-month increase for inside workers is sought by the workers.

Reeve P. A. Gibbs also announced that the council will meet next week to discuss 1952 estimates of the Greater Victoria School Board. He indicated that individual items on the budget would be checked.

Aga Khan Better

CALCUTTA, India, Feb. 21 (Reuters).—The Aga Khan, 75, suffered a mild heart attack during a flight from Dacca to Calcutta Wednesday. He was reported later by his staff physician to be "better." The Aga Khan, spiritual leader of millions of Moslems, is on a visit to Pakistan and India.

Culbertson on Bridge - - -

(Copyright 1952, by Ely Culbertson)

A correspondent asks for a decision about "a bidding argument which threatened the very foundations of a home. This was the hand:

West, dealer.
Both sides vulnerable.

NORTH
♠ 6 3
♦ A J 9 7 4
♣ K Q J 8 7 5

WEST
♠ A J 10 8
♥ A J 4
♦ K Q 10 8 2
♣ 10

EAST
♠ K 9 4 2
♥ 8 7 3 2
♣ A 9 6 4 3

SOUTH
♠ Q 7 5
♥ K Q 10 9 6 5
♦ 6 5 3
♣ 2

This was the actual bidding:

West	North	East	South
1 ♦	Double	Pass	1 ♥
Pass	2 ♣	Pass	2 ♥
Pass	3 ♣	Pass	?

Quoting from my correspondent's letter:

"The question we want to ask is: What should South say over three clubs? Should he or should he not bid three hearts? He did make that bid—was doubled by East, and went down 1400!

—"North argued that his three-club bid was a sign-off, but how could he sign off in a minor suit after originally inviting a major response and never bidding the other major himself? My own opinion is that his takeout double of one diamond was about the worst I have ever seen. Please settle this heated argument."

This writer fully concurs with his correspondent's opinion of North's takeout double. With support for neither major suit and, in fact, with every reason to be afraid of the likely heart response, North should have confined himself to one of two courses: passing, in the hope of trapping diamonds; or, if he felt there was little chance of the opponents going on in diamonds, he could of course put in a two-club overcall.

South might well have answered the double with a jump to two hearts, but even as the auction went, he could not be blamed for carrying on to three hearts, over North's three clubs. It was incredible that he would find North void of hearts, in view of his takeout double of the other major suit.

By RITA DEL MAR

FOR FRIDAY, FEB. 22, 1952

Today's quotation: "If her figure is her fortune, she hasn't got the money invested in the right places." Judy Canova.

Friday for everyone — Take background factors into consideration; keep clear of complications, possible troublesome situations. Evening: enjoy some sociability; exert personality, charm.

Look for your birthdate and birthsign below.

March 21 to April 19 (Aries)—Shun dealings which would deplete reserves. Acquaintances, associates can help in evening.

April 20 to May 20 (Taurus)—Use care en route; exert discretion in making plans. Inefficiency must be sidestepped; Seek the company of higher-ups in evening.

May 21 to June 20 (Gemini)—Keep feelings in check; be wary in activities. Evening favors recreation, trips.

June 21 to July 22 (Cancer)—Find your way around trying situations; others are "touchy." Evening: give, gain, aid; be hospitable.

July 23 to Aug. 22 (Leo)—Allow no one to divert you from your chores. Mutual gains may be had in the evening.

Aug. 23 to Sept. 22 (Virgo)—Fight down a disinclination to take care of necessities. Be on the job. Efforts made bear good fruit later.

Sept. 23 to Oct. 22 (Libra)—Daytime: be guarded against inharmony, tangents. Evening: forward cherished interests.

Oct. 23 to Nov. 21 (Scorpio)—Developments around the neighborhood or in relations with others call for tact. Evening: seek solutions.

Nov. 22 to Dec. 21 (Sagittarius)—Be economical; make certain that your efforts are accomplishing something. Make up your mind in evening.

Dec. 22 to Jan. 19 (Capricorn)—Don't be inconsiderate, especially where your family, those nearby are concerned. Evening: grasp openings to gain.

Jan. 20 to Feb. 18 (Aquarius)—Avoid complications during the day. Your outlook should brighten by the end of the day.

Feb. 19 to March 20 (Pisces)—Be sure you are on the right track today. Discuss difficulties; others aid you at night.

Planning ahead—Good for sociability, entertaining, etc.: Feb. 25, 29, March 3, 6, 14, 17.

Uncle Wiggily Story - - -

By Howard Garis

PARTY FUN

Clarence the boy fox knew that the voices which he and Bobbie the bob cat had heard from behind the big rock were the voices of Mr. and Mrs. Fox. They had forgotten they were supposed to stay quiet and not talk.

"Did you hear those voices, Clarence?" asked Bobbie.

"No, I don't believe I did," answered Clarence. He wasn't exactly telling the truth. You can't always trust a fox.

"Well, I heard voices," went on Bobbie.

"Maybe it was the voices of some of the other fellows coming to Uncle Wiggily's snow house party," suggested Clarence.

"No other fellows come this way," said Bobbie. "You and I are the only ones to take this path. There! I hear the voices again."

Surely enough, Mr. and Mrs. Fox were still talking. They were supposed to keep quiet until Bobbie and Clarence had gone to the party.

"Ahem! Ahem! Ahem!" suddenly coughed Clarence. This was to warn his daddy and mother back of the rock to keep quiet. "Ahem!"

"Are you catching cold, Clarence?" asked Bobbie kindly.

"Maybe just a little," said the boy fox.

"Then you shouldn't go to Uncle Wiggily's snow house party," went on Bobbie the bob cat. "Colds are bad for you and for others."

"Oh, I'm all right now," said Clarence quickly. "I guess it was just some snow dust in my throat. Come on! Let's go to the party now that I have my white collar." The sharp ears of the fox boy had heard his father and mother moving away from the rock, so he knew they had heard his warning cough. "Come on, let's go!" said Clarence again.

"No, we can't go yet!" exclaimed Bobbie.

"Why not? Do you hear more voices?" asked the young fox.

"No, I don't hear any more voices," answered Bobbie. "I guess those voices were only the trees blowing in the wind."

"Then why can't we go on to Uncle Wiggily's snow house party?" asked the sly fox.

"Because you need a necktie with that white birch bark collar," answered Young Bobbie. "You must look nice at the party."

"Where can I get a necktie here in the woods?" asked Clarence.

"This will make a fine necktie for you to go with the white collar," answered Bobbie. He picked up from the ground a beautiful red oak leaf. This he fastened with a thorn pin on the sweater of Clarence just under the collar.

"How do I look?" asked Clarence.

"Very fine and stylish," answered Bobbie. "Now we can go to the party and have fun."

A short time after that the fox boy and the bob cat boy were in front of Uncle Wiggily's snow house. The block of snow that was used to close the front doorway had been pushed aside. Bobbie and Clarence could hear the sound of music and singing coming from within the snow house.

"The party has started! We're just in time," said Bobbie.

"Yes, just in time!" added Clarence. Through the open doorway he saw Uncle Wiggily dancing with Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy.

"You are just in time, boys!" greeted Nurse Jane as the music ended and she stopped dancing.

"Yes, come in!" was Uncle Wiggily's invitation. "I am still enjoying those Valentines you brought me. Now! On with the fun!"

There was much fun at the rabbit gentleman's snow house party. The boys and girls played games and ate ice cream, candy and cake. But, all the while, Clarence was trying to think of a way to get Uncle Wiggily outside so Mr. and Mrs. Fox could catch him. At last Clarence whispered to the rabbit gentleman, saying:

"Uncle Wiggily, could you please step outside with me for a moment?"

"Why should I do that?" asked Mr. Longears.

What excuse is Clarence going to make to get the bunny uncle out of the snow house so the daddy and mother foxes can grab him? I will tell you tomorrow, if the pussy cat will spread a nice clean sheet of paper on the doll's bed so she won't catch cold in the night.

Forestry Service Seeks 50 New Station Wagons

Calling of tenders for 50 new station wagons, worth at least $100,000, preludes an expanding British Columbia forestry department inventory program.

The cars will be used, together with at least an additional 100 part-time workers this summer, to follow up aerial surveys of timber stands in various parts of the province.

The Dominion government under terms of a five-year aid program, will contribute 50 per cent of the cost of the vehicles, as it has done for the rest of the province's forest inventory work.

This Dominion assistance, 25 per cent of which goes toward cost of B.C.'s reforestation and planting program, has been given for two years now, under the Canada Forests Act and C. D. Orchard, the province's chief forester, said yesterday he hopes the agreement will be renewed.

He said purchase of the station wagons, together with added manpower, comprised mainly of university students, should enable his department to double the work they accomplished last year.

He said this could be done under the terms of the federal-provincial pact, at no extra cost to B.C.

The tenders specify the type of car wanted as "suburban" or station wagon; half-ton carrying capacity; six passengers and baggage capacity, and of American, Canadian or English make.

The cars must be field-tested before purchase.

Guilty Driver Prefers Jail To $250 Fine

Frank W. Smith, 241 Beechwood Drive, was fined $250 or one month in jail when found guilty by Magistrate H. C. Hall yesterday of operating a motor vehicle while his ability to do so was impaired by alcohol.

Smith elected to serve the jail term. The case was heard in Saanich police court.

Albert Woodske, St. James Hotel, and Thomas Armstrong, 3403 Bethune Avenue, were fined $25 each or five days after pleading guilty to charges of operating a motor vehicle without current drivers' licenses.

Alcan Plans for Kitimat Include 2,000 Workers

The Alcan township of Kitimat will be among the most scientifically designed communities of North America, said R. Muir in a talk to the Rotary Club yesterday.

Serving as public relations officer for the Aluminum Company of Canada, Mr. Muir said 2,000 men would be employed building Kitimat this summer. Eight Vancouver contracting firms would handle the job.

A master plan, embracing the latest in community planning, had been completed by New York experts, he said, and was now awaiting approval of the British Columbia government.

In a general progress report of the $500,000,000 Alcan project, Mr. Muir stated work was proceeding favorably. Tunnels are being cut through solid mountains. A huge cavity is being eaten away 2,000 feet inside a mountain, and in it the project's great powerhouse will be established.

Establishment of power lines from the powerhouse to the aluminum plant 50 miles away at Kitimat still present a major problem, the company spokesman stated. The area to be traversed includes towering, snow-capped mountains, over which man can barely travel by foot.

A number of tests have been made, he said, to determine what punishment such power lines would take from the elements.

Yarrows Ltd. is currently working on an experiment, success of which would overcome the power line problem. It is hoped large aluminum towers might be flown by specially-built helicopters to their various locations along the treacherous 50-mile route. First test of power and helicopter will be held here shortly.

According to present plans, the first aluminum ingots from the new plant would be produced early in 1954. A national emergency might advance that deadline, he said.

Before Mr. Muir spoke, Rotarians enjoyed a 35-minute color film which dealt with survey work completed in and about Kitimat-Nechako Valley area.

Freighter Gets Major Repairs

The American freighter Oceanic is undergoing major repairs at a Vancouver shipyard. She loaded 500,000 feet of lumber here last week, then went to the Mainland port for what was to have been just a scrape and paint job.

Under her rust, however, workmen found a number of plates needed replacing. Her lumber cargo was switched to Ss. Sea-legend.

Wounded Soldier, 19, Finds Peace, Long-Lost Parents on Return Home

By TREVOR COLLINS

A youthful Korean war veteran, still limping from the effects of multiple machine-gun wounds, came home yesterday.

His parents met their long-lost son and his bride in Vancouver after nearly missing them in the mainland city.

It was "home at last" for Pte. [illegible] as they relaxed in the home of their parents at 737 Vancouver Street last night.

And for Mr. and Mrs. Harold S. Holben it was one of the happiest days of their lives.

His voice still choked with emotion, Mr. Holben told how he and his wife went to Vancouver Wednesday night to greet their soldier son and his new bride.

But the meeting was almost a failure. The soldier's parents waited to meet the young soldier at the C.P.R. station while the youth was arriving by C.N.R. train.

For the 19-year-old soldier and his parents it was more than just a meeting—it was a reunion from the dead.

To a father it meant a lost son had returned and for the boy—his father was still alive.

It all started back in 1946 when Harold Holben returned from overseas and greeted his son in a school in Kemptville, Ont.

The father traveled to other places in Canada and lost touch with his son when the boy ran away from school.

The son joined the army and wound up in a hospital in Korea suffering from five bullet holes in his left leg.

The first the father heard of the whereabouts of his son was in a casualty list in The Daily Colonist.

Pte. Holben had been on a reconnaisance against Communist troops when a machine-gun found him as a target.

He toyed with a "suicide knife" taken from a Communist soldier as he told the story last night. His mother was busy cooking a huge ham in the kitchen.

"We were trying to find out how many men they had," he said, "some people call it a suicide patrol."

He said he still doesn't know how he got back to the United Nations' troops but that he later heard some medical men came out and picked him up nearly dead from loss of blood.

His bride of a few months—the former Miss Margaret June Neill, 439 Arlington Street, Ottawa—played with a frisky six-week-old cocker spaniel as her [illegible] nearly cost him his life.

The young soldier was 17 at the time and considered the youngest soldier in the Canadian forces.

Later he was moved to an American field hospital farther behind the lines in South Korea where a doctor wanted to amputate his bullet-shattered leg.

"I wouldn't let him," Pte. Holben declared.

His next stop was another American hospital in Japan where "they wanted to cut off my leg again," the young soldier said.

COULD SAVE LEG

"Next I was transferred to a British hospital where the doctor said he could save my leg. A six-inch bone graft was part of the operation.

The next year was a series of moves and hospitals for Pte. Holben.

He landed at Pearl Harbor, Australia, California, Tacoma, Vancouver, Winnipeg, Toronto, Montreal and finally Ottawa on his long trip from the battle-zone.

His father, meanwhile, was unable to locate his son. All letters were returned unopened and he feared the boy was dead.

"If I had known he was in Vancouver he would never have got any farther," his father said.

It was in Ottawa that he met the girl who is now his wife. Even though it was the first time he had seen her, she was no stranger.

Back in Korea their friendship started when the homesick youth wanted someone to write to. He asked his pal to give him an address.

Nineteen-year-old Nicky didn't know how close she came to never knowing her husband.

Another friend also lonesome flipped a coin to see who would write to the Ottawa girl. Pte. Holben won.

[illegible] until he arrived in the Ottawa hospital where two days later he asked her to marry him.

"He said he would give me a week to decide but I told him yes the next day," the pretty young bride declared.

"He's wonderful," she said last night. "I wouldn't trade him for anything. He won't go back to Korea again."

Pte. Holben has been honorably discharged from the army and is planning to live in Victoria where he is now looking for a job.

While in Ottawa he still couldn't find his parents.

But they knew he was still alive following a newsreel picture shown locally where he was pictured leaving a hospital plane at Ottawa.

Pte. Holben wrote a letter asking a relative in England if she knew where his mother and father were.

The answer was "somewhere in Ontario or maybe in Victoria."

Pte. Holben thought his father might be dead and had almost given up hope of ever seeing him again.

"I've got a feeling your father isn't dead and I am going to find him for you," his wife said.

She took a shot in the dark and phoned long distance to Victoria and asked the operator for Mr. Harold Holben.

"Two minutes later I was talking to my mother-in-law," she said.

"Don't call me your mother-in-law," snapped Mrs. Holben, "call me Mum."

Civil Defense Seeks To Stir Up Interest

A civil defense meeting will be held at St. Luke's Hall next Tuesday for the purpose of enlisting volunteers and stimulating interest in the Cedar Hill Cross Road area, civil defense co-ordinator Leonard Hatcher said yesterday.

It is hoped about 300 will attend, he said.

The same day in Duncan medical officers and co-ordinators of the island mutual aid and reception area will hold a meeting. fense Control Board for Greater

Also on Tuesday, the Civil Defense Victoria will meet in the Cormorant Street headquarters at 2.30 p.m.

Mr. Hatcher said that yesterday the first class for provincial government employees was held.

C.P.R. Vice-President On Visit to Victoria

Paying a visit to Victoria to see his father, who lives here, is N. R. Crump, vice-president of the Canadian Pacific Railway.

Mr. Crump traveled to Victoria from Vancouver today by Nanaimo, making his first crossing in the new Princess of Nanaimo.

"A fine ship. I was very pleased with it," he said.

Mr. Crump is west on one of his normal routine trips.

"I was specially interested in the dieselization program which is going on in the Calgary-Revelstoke section of the main line," he said. "This section includes our heaviest grades, and I made a round trip on one of our new diesels."

Mr. Crump said that the process of dieselizing the C.P.R. was going on steadily. "The E. & N. here was the first to be switched entirely from steam to diesel," he said. "The Calgary-Revelstoke section is the first on the main line west of Fort William. We do not know yet where we will make the next switch-over."

The C.P.R. vice-president had no comment to make on the future of passenger traffic on the E. & N., but he said he was delighted to be back in Victoria. "After the snow of Montreal it is a delight to have your feet on the dry clean sidewalks of Victoria."

Worthington Picked Again As Chairman

John A. Worthington was re-elected chairman of the Greater Victoria Board of Cemetery Trustees and George Austin vice-chairman at a meeting this week.

Mr. Worthington is an ex-alderman of Victoria and Mr. Austin an ex-councillor of Saanich.

Other members appointed to represent Victoria are ex-aldermen R. A. Dewar and Ed Williams, and for Saanich, Clr. Leslie Passmore and ex-councillor John Oliver.

Secretary is Len Treloar.

Newfoundland Club Meets Next Tuesday

Newfoundland Club monthly meeting will be held at 8 p.m., Feb. 26, at 725 Courtney Street, it was announced yesterday.
